TO

MY VENERATED FATHER,

OREN CLEVELAND,

WHO THIS DAY (MAY 3, 1879,) ENTERS UPON THE NINETY-FIFTH YEAR OF HIS EARTHLY PILGRIMAGE,

AND TO WHOSE EXPRESSED WISH THESE PAGES ARE DUE.

THIS HUMBLE ENDEAVOR, PROMPTED BY FILIAL LOVE AND A DESIRE TO REALIZE THAT WISH, IS MOST REVERENTLY AND AFFECTIONATELY INSCRIBED.

P R E F A C E .

THE inscription on the page opposite must be accepted as the apology, if any is needed, for this publication.

The compiler had his attention directed to the subject as set forth, in the spring of the Centennial year of the Nation, and up to the year 1871, his knowledge of Benjamin and Rachel Cleveland and their decendants, was confined to the posterity of their son Rufus Cleveland, his paternal grandfather. Nor could he have accurately told, if his life had depended upon the telling, who either the brother or the sisters of his grandfather married.

The letter of "Benjamin and Rachel Cleveland," as given on page 10, containing certain references to "Zenas," and "Hovey," and "Hamblin," and "Ephraim Pearson," was all that he had as a foundation to build upon, and the access, of course, to early township or other public records in the New England States. The result of the researches made in leisure hours, while engaged in exacting business pursuits, is now presented. That these records are free from errors it would be folly to pretend, and it is earnestly desired that any found should be pointed out, and made known, so that they may not appear in any future edition. No merit as a literary performance is claimed or deserved, but as evidence of earnest, persevering research, beset and opposed by every discouraging obstacle imaginable, it bears its own testimony, and will at least be appreciated by those who have had any experience in such labor.

The abbreviations used are so few and so apparent in their meaning, as to need no explanation.

The small figures attached to various names, and most likely to puzzle the reader if unused to such publications, are employed to design-nate the different or successive generations. The starting point is the common ancestor, Moses Cleveland, of Woburn, and he is designated as MOSES CLEVELAND.¹ His children are the second generation, and his grandchildren are of the third generation, and so on. The Index is elaborate enough to enable the reader to find any particular family readily, and will probably prove sufficient for all practical purposes.

The fact that comparatively few of the descendants of Benjamin and Rachel Cleveland have either sought or acquired public distinction, does not militate against the publication of these records. It will be noted that generally their descendants were devoted to agricultural pursuits, and belonged especially to the producing classes—the “bone and sinew” of the country—the honest, frugal and industrious citizens of the commonwealth. All honor to them, then, for such as these the nation can not do without. And, in conclusion, it may be appropriately said of them, as a whole, in the language of the poet Gray—

“Far from the madding crowd’s ignoble strife,
Their sober wishes never learned to stray;
Along the cool, sequestered vale of life
They kept the noiseless tenor of their way.”

ANCESTRY OF BENJAMIN CLEVELAND.

MOSES CLEVELAND,¹ of Woburn, Mass., 1641, appears to be the common ancestor of all the "Clevelands" of New England. Family tradition says he emigrated to this country in 1635, from Ipswich, Suffolk, Eng., an indentured apprentice to a housewright or master builder. From the Woburn town records it appears Moses Cleveland was made a freeman in 1643, no doubt upon attaining the age of 21. Sept. 26, 1648, he married Miss Ann Winn, daughter of Edward and Joanna Winn, of Woburn. She was also a native of England. The date and place of her birth not learned, nor does the date of her death appear on the town records, but the death of Moses Cleveland occurred on the 9th Jan., 1701-2. (See Appendix A.)

They had a family of eleven children—seven sons and four daughters, (one child only, the first Joanna, dying in childhood), as follows, all born in Woburn :

1. Moses,² b. Sept. 1, 1651; m. Ruth Norton.
 2. Hannah,² b. Aug. 4, 1653; m. Thomas Henshaw.
 3. Aaron,² b. Jan. 10, 1655; m. Dorcas Wilson.
 4. Samuel,² b. June 9, 1657; m. Jane Keyes.
 5. Miriam,² b. July 10, 1659; m. Thos. Foskett.
 6. Joanna,² b. Sept. 19, 1661; d. July 2, 1667.
 7. Edward,² b. May 20, 1663; m. Deliverance Palmer.
 8. Josiah,² b. Feb. 26, 1666-7; m. Mary —.
 9. Isaac,² b. May 11, 1669; m. Elizabeth Curtice.
 10. Joanna,² (again), b. April 5, 1670; m. Joseph Keyes.
 11. Enoch,² b. Aug. 1, 1671; m. Elizabeth Counts, of Charlestown, Mass.

Confining myself for the present to my direct line, I find that—

SAMUEL CLEVELAND,² the third son and fourth child of Moses¹ and Ann (Winn) Cleveland, b. in Woburn, June 9,

1657, m. first, in Chelmsford, Mass., May 17, 1680, Jane Keyes, a dau. of Solomon and Frances (Grant) Keyes. She was b. in Newbury, Mass., Oct. 25, 1660, and d. without issue in Chelmsford, Mass., Nov. 4, 1681. He m. second, in Chelmsford, May 23, 1682, Persis Hildreth, dau. of Richard and Elizabeth Hildreth. She was b. in Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 8, 1660; d. in Canterbury, Conn., Feb. 22, 1698. He m. third, wid. Margaret Fish, in Canterbury, Conn., July 25, 1699. He d. in Canterbury, Conn., March 12, 1736. The date and place of death of third wife not learned. (See Appendix B.)

Children, by wife Persis :

1. Persis,³ b. in Chelmsford, April 21, 1683.
2. Samuel,³ b. in Chelmsford, Jan. 12, 1685; m. Sarah Boswell.
3. Joseph,³ b. in Chelmsford, July 18, 1689; m. Abigail Hyde.
4. Elizabeth,³ b. in Woburn, June 26, 1693; m. John Ensworth.
5. Mary,³ b. in Canterbury, June 14, 1696; m. Joseph Ensworth.

by wife Margaret :

6. Abigail,³ b. in Canterbury, April 23, 1700; d. Feb. 23, 1718.
7. Timothy,³ b. in Canterbury, Aug. 25, 1702; m. Dorothy —.

And perhaps there were other children not recorded, as the records were evidently very imperfectly kept during these years.

Hinman, in his Catalogue of the Puritan Settlers of Connecticut, gives two more children, Ephraim,³ and Margaret,³ to wife Persis. So far as Ephraim³ is concerned, he may be correct, as there was an Ephraim Cleveland who d. in Canterbury, March 13, 1711. Margaret,³ he says, m. Gideon Cable in 1717.

Samuel Cleveland² was one of the earliest settlers in Plainfield, (or Canterbury), Conn., probably about 1694, and was followed by his brother Josiah,² of Chelmsford, Mass., soon after, and subsequently by his brothers Edward,² of Kingston, R. I., and Isaac,² of Woburn. Canterbury was not incorporated as a town until 1703, and was previously a part of Plainfield.

JOSEPH CLEVELAND,³ second son and third child of Samuel² and Persis (Hildreth) Cleveland, b. in Chelmsford, Mass., July 18, 1689, m. first, in Canterbury, Conn., Feb. 7, 1710-11, Abigail Hyde, dau. of Jonathan and Dorothy (Kidder) Hyde. She was b. in Cambridge, Mass., Aug. 8, 1688, and d. in Canterbury, Conn., Dec. 16, 1724. He m. second, in Canterbury, Conn., (as I interpret the records), March 31, 1725, Sarah Ensworth, a dau. of Tyxhall and Lydia Ensworth. She was b. in Plainfield, Conn., June 12, 1699, and d. in Canterbury, Conn., June 21, 1761. He died in Canterbury, Conn., March 11, 1766. He was called "Sergeant" Joseph, to distinguish him from his cousin "Capt." Joseph,³ son of Josiah² and Mary Cleveland. (See Appendix C.)

Children, by wife Abigail :

1. Ephraim,⁴ b. Feb. 3, 1712.
2. Jonathan,⁴ b. May 9, 1713; d. March 19, 1734.
3. Benjamin,⁴ b. May 20, 1714; m. Rachel ———.
4. Dorothy,⁴ b. March 31, 1716.
5. John,⁴ b. (probably) in 1718; d. March 5, 1734.
6. Elijah,⁴ b. Jan. 5, 1721; m. Alice Lawrence.
7. Persis,⁴ bap. April 7, 1723; probably m. Feb. 18, 1745, Henry Bacon, of Pomfret, Conn.

by wife Sarah :

8. Ezra,⁴ bap. April 17, 1726; m. Jerusha Newcomb.
9. Samuel,⁴ b. June 7, 1730; m. Ruth Darbe.

In regard to the marriage and settlement of some of the children of Joseph Cleveland,³ the compiler of these records has not been able to determine fully.

There was an Ephraim Cleveland who settled in Dedham, Mass., and m. there, first, Jan. 14, 1734-5, Abigail Curtis, who d. Aug. 30, 1738. He m. second, Nov. 21, 1738, Ruth Nichols, who also d. in Dedham, Oct. 14, 1744. Children were: Ephraim, Jacob, Sarah, Rebekah and Abigail. There was also an Ephraim Cleveland who m. Hannah Hayward as late as 1747, in Bridgewater, Mass., and they gave their children many of the family names, such as Joseph, Benjamin, Elijah and Persis. Further investigation may show the identity of one, or possibly both, of them with the Ephraim Cleveland, of Canterbury, Conn. Concerning Dorothy⁴ nothing has been ascertained, and it is probable she lived and died a spinster. Elijah⁴ is known to have settled in Hillsdale, (formerly Noble-town), Columbia county, N. Y., and is buried there with wife Alice; but Benjamin,⁴ Ezra,⁴ and Samuel,⁴ remained in Canterbury, Conn., where names of children born to them respectively are recorded. A deed of land by Joseph Cleveland, to his "well beloved son, Benjamin Cleveland," bears date "Canterbury, Decem^r y^e 23rd, A. D. 1735," with a reservation and proviso which reads as follows:

"Only reserving to my own use and y^e use of my family, to get firewood and Timber upon s^d Land during my natural life, & said Land being in full of y^e portion my said son shall ever have of my Estate."

Later he seems to have divided his lands between his sons Ezra and Samuel, under date of March 7, 1753, and probably lived near them until his death.

DESCENDANTS OF BENJAMIN CLEVELAND.

BENJAMIN CLEVELAND,⁴ a great-grandson of Moses¹ and Ann (Winn) Cleveland, of Woburn, Mass., was born in Canterbury, Windham county, Conn., May 20, 1714. He was the third son and child of Joseph³ and Abigail (Hyde) Cleveland, and a grandson of Samuel² and Persis (Hildreth) Cleveland.

By wife Rachel ———,* whom he married in 1736, he had a family of ten children, as follows :

1. Joseph,⁵ b. May 14, 1737; d. Nov. 17, 1749.
2. Benjamin,⁵ b. — —, —; d. Nov. 25, 1749.
3. Dorothy,⁵ b. June 10, 1744; d. Nov. 12, 1749.
4. Abigail,⁵ b. Aug. 13, 1746; d. June 2, 1832.
5. Zenas,⁵ b. Sept. 21, 1748; d. Aug. —, 1821.
6. Rachel,⁵ b. May 18, 1750; d. Sept. 27, 1837.
7. Persis,⁵ b. Jan. 18, 1752; d. March 30, 1834.
8. Rufus,⁵ b. June 14, 1754; d. Feb. 22, 1838.
9. Mary,⁵ b. April 14, 1756; d. Jan. 27, 1763.
10. Phebe,⁵ b. June 25, 1758; d. Aug. 6, 1838.

Sometime after the marriage of his eldest (surviving) daughter, Abigail, to Samuel Hovey, who had settled in the town of Lyme, Grafton county, N. H., Benjamin Cleveland

* The most earnest and persistent endeavors have been made to ascertain the maiden name of this lady, the date and place of her birth, and the names of her parents. Of the six grandchildren living, not one is at all sure of any facts concerning her, save that her given name was Rachel. She has been referred to by different correspondents and descendants, as a Hall, a Pearson, a Stebbins and a Hyde. Mrs. Lois H. Woodworth, of Concord, N. H., who manifested the liveliest interest in the preparation of this work until her last sickness in 1877, stated that she had always understood her father (Abner Hovey⁶) to say, one of his grandmothers was a Perkins, and the other a Hall. Certain it is that the mother of Samuel Hovey was Elizabeth Perkins; but as yet nothing has been received to determine as certainly the maiden name, etc., of Rachel, wife of Benjamin Cleveland.⁴ The compiler will be glad to compensate any one who can furnish the desired information concerning her pedigree.

and his wife also removed to the same town, (in N. H.,) where his wife died in 1792. About this date Samuel Hovey, who became a Baptist preacher, removed from Lyme, N. H., to East Brookfield, Orange county, Vt., and there, greatly enfeebled by old age, Benj. Cleveland died, A. D. 1797.

The following letter, written by Benjamin Cleveland to his son, Rufus Cleveland, (the original of which is in possession of the compiler), is given here to show the unaffected piety and simple-heartedness of the writer, as well as to preserve the document itself from oblivion. It is written in a plain, steady hand, and signed with the c in the first syllable of the name, as customarily written by members of the Cleveland family in those days.

“LYME, October 19th, 1786.

“DEAR CHILDREN:

“Our love to you and yours induces us to let you know that through the goodness of God we are in as comfortable states of health as can be expected people of our age will be. But we are not insensible of the decays of nature, for we daily experience those shocks which show that our dissolution draws near. I have a bad cough, but am able to keep about. Your mother is better upon the account of her lameness.

“We have to acquaint you of the sorrowful news of the death of Zenas's two youngest children. Zenas and Rachel have both been sick, but have recovered. Ephraim Pearson and his wife was here about the beginning of September, and were well.

“Mr. Cook, the bearer, is going to Hartford, and he will bring my spectacles when he returns, if they are left at Capt. Chamberlain's, and I hope you will carry them there, and write to us by Mr. Cook.

“Zenas, and Hovey and Hamblin and their folks are all well, and remember their love to you and yours.

“From your loving Parents,

“BENJAMIN AND RACHEL CLEVELAND.”

He was in his seventy-third year when he penned the foregoing, and it is to be hoped that the good old gentleman got his spectacles, of which he doubtless stood in great need. (See Appendix D.)

ABIGAIL CLEVELAND,⁵ the fourth child of Benjamin⁴ and Rachel Cleveland, was b. in Canterbury, Conn., Aug. 13, 1746. She m. in Windham, Conn., Sept. 29, 1763, Samuel

Hovey, son of Samuel and Elizabeth (Perkins) Hovey. He was b. in Windham, Conn., March 7, 1743; d. in East Brookfield, Vt., May 12, 1833. She d. in East Brookfield, Vt., June 2, 1832. She was a woman of a most amiable disposition, and a thrifty housewife. Her love of music was intense, and her voice remarkable for its sweetness, as well as for its power and compass. She was very kind to her aged parents, and watched over and nursed them most tenderly and untiringly in their declining years. Her husband cultivated successfully a farm, and never took anything for his ministerial labors in the way of compensation. They had a family of thirteen children, as follows:

1. Daniel,⁶ b. in Windham, Conn., July 24, 1764.
2. Abner,⁶ b. in Canterbury, Conn., Nov. 5, 1766.
3. Mary,⁶ b. in Canterbury, Conn., May 26, 1768.
4. Rufus Cleveland,⁶ b. in Canterbury, Conn., Aug. 29, 1770.
5. Rebecca,⁶ b. in Canterbury, Conn., Sept. 6, 1772.
6. Samuel,⁶ b. in Lyme, N. H., Oct. 20, 1774.
7. Abiel,⁶ b. in Lyme, N. H., Oct. 30, 1776.
8. Alvan,⁶ b. in Lyme, N. H., March 3, 1779.
9. Abigail,⁶ b. in Lyme, N. H., Dec. 25, 1780.
10. Elizabeth,⁶ b. in Lyme, N. H., April 15, 1783.
11. John Fairfield,⁶ b. in Lyme, N. H., April 11, 1785.
12. Lucy,⁶ b. in Lyme, N. H., March 7, 1787; d. —, 1788.
13. Lucy,⁶ (again), b. in Lyme, N. H., Oct. 17, 1789.

It appears that when Samuel Hovey removed from Windham county, Conn., to Grafton county, N. H., he purchased and settled upon what is known as "Grant's Island" in the Connecticut river, between Lyme, in Grafton county, N. H., and Thetford, in Orange county, Vt. It contains about 30 acres of arable land, free from stones, and the soil very fertile. Here he had early erected a comfortable dwelling house, barn, etc., and here the family dwelt and prospered until after the youngest child was born. In the old records of the Congregational or Presbyterian Society in Lyme, I find the following:

"Lime, Decr 28, 1794, then Abigail Hovey, the wife of Samuel Hovey, by the consent of the Brethren was dismissed from this chh. to join any chh. of Christ which she might choose for her better edification.

Attest:

WM. CONANT, Pas."

"Lime, April 13, 1795, then Samuel Hovey, a member of this chh. was recommended to the chh. of Christ in Brookfield."

From the same records it appears that "Samuel Hovey and Abigail Hovey were admitted to the chh. at Lime, June 2, 1782," and on "Nov. 11, 1784, six more ruling elders chosen," among which number is "Samuel Hovey"; showing him to have been an active member in the ecclesiastical organization at "Lime." His connection with the Baptists was after his removal to Brookfield, Vt.

In the burying-ground on "East Hill," Brookfield, Vt., may be found the stones which mark the graves of this worthy pioneer and his wife, bearing the following inscriptions :

"Elder Samuel Hovey, Preacher of the Gospel, died May 12, 1833, aged 90 years and 2 mo."

"Mrs. Abigail Hovey, wife of Elder Samuel Hovey, died June 2, 1832, aged 85 years and 10 mo."

Around them are the graves of many of their kindred and descendants, including children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and the living may well learn a lesson from the lives and characters of Samuel Hovey and Abigail Cleveland, his wife.

Daniel Hovey,⁶ eldest son and child of Rev. Samuel and Abigail (Cleveland) Hovey, m. in Lyme, N. H., Feb. 18, 1789, Beulah Pingree, dau. of Sylvanus and Mary (Sawyer) Pingree. Gen. Alvin P. Hovey,⁷ a Judge of the Supreme Court, in the State of Indiana, and late U. S. Minister to Peru, is perhaps the most distinguished of the descendants of Abigail Cleveland.⁵ He served with efficiency in the war of the Rebellion, and was esteemed a brave and skillful officer; and in May, 1864, was Brig. General in command of the 1st Div. 23rd Army Corps, in Tennessee. The following note, taken from the "Centennial Historical Sketch of Posey County, Indiana," is here inserted as a brief epitome of his life and public services :

"NOTE.—General Alvin P. Hovey is a native of Posey county, and was a delegate in the convention that framed the new Constitution of the State of Indiana, in 1850. He was Judge of the Circuit Court for the judicial circuit comprising Posey county and ten other counties in the southwestern part of the State, from May, 1851, to May, 1854; and he was Judge of the Supreme Court of Indiana from May, 1854, to 1855. He was United States District Attorney, for the district of Indiana, from 1856 to 1858, when he was decapitated by President Buchanan for supporting Stephen A. Douglas for President, and Daniel W. Voorhees was appointed to fill the vacancy. He was Colonel of the 24th Indiana Volunteers in the late war for the suppression of the Southern rebellion. He was promoted Brigadier General of Volunteers April 13th, 1862, and afterwards, July 9th, 1864, he was promoted Brevet Major General of U. S. Volunteers, "for distinguished and meritorious service during the present war." He commanded at the celebrated battle of Champion Hill, which was the key battle of the Vicksburg campaign, opening the way to the capture of Vicksburg, and General U. S. Grant gave him great credit for running that battle. He was appointed Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to the Government of Peru, South America, Aug. 12, 1865, and resigned in 1870."

He m. in Posey county, Ind., Nov. 24, 1844, Miss Mary Ann James, dau. of Hon. Enoch R. James, of Mount Vernon, Ind. She was b. in Baton Rouge, La., Feb. 22, 1825; d. in Mt.

Vernon, Ind., Nov. 16, 1863. His second wife was the widow of Maj. W. F. Carey, of Cleveland, Ohio, and dau. of Hon. Caleb B. Smith, Secretary of the Interior under President Lincoln. No children by second wife, who died in New York City soon after her last marriage.

By wife Mary Ann he had—

(For additional genealogical information as to the Hovey branch, see Appendix E.)

ZENAS CLEVELAND,⁵ the fifth child of Benj. and Rachel Cleveland, was b. in Canterbury, Conn., Sept. 21, 1748. The date and place of his marriage to Eunice Ludington, the names of her parents, or the date and place of her birth, not learned. When he was a lad of perhaps eight or ten years of age, he came in from the hayfield, and while lying down to rest he experienced a sharp pain in one of his legs, so acute as to cause him to scream aloud. In a few days something like a fever sore or ulcer broke out, and when healed he was left a cripple for life. He appears to have learned the trade of a shoemaker. In 1786 he resided in Brookfield, Vt., and buried his two youngest children there in August of that year. All traces of him and his family are lost from the time he left there in 1791, until found in Sullivan county, N. Y., about the year 1811. He was then in poor circumstances, and worked at shoemaking at Bethel, in that county. Shortly after that date he left that place and removed to Litchfield, Bradford county, Pa., where his only son, Zenas Cleveland, Jr., had taken up a wild piece of land. There his wife Eunice died, May 1, 1824, surviving her husband about three years. He d. Aug. 27, 1821, aged nearly 73. They were both buried on the place, a few rods from the house, but no stone marks their resting place now. The farm is now owned and cultivated by Joshua Turk, Esq., who kindly pointed out to me the slight knoll designating the two graves of Zenas Cleveland,⁵ and Eunice Ludington, his wife. As nearly as can be ascertained they had a family of six children :

1. Eunice,⁶ b. (about) 1773; d. —
2. Betsey,⁶ b. (about) 1776; d. —
3. Zenas,⁶ b. Sept. —, 1778; d. Jan. 13, 1873.
4. Eleanor,⁶ b. April 10, 1780; d. Aug. 27, 1869.
5. Anna,⁶ b. —, 1782; d. Aug. 5, 1786.
6. James,⁶ b. Oct. 30, 1784; d. Aug. 10, 1786.

An extraordinary effort has been made by the writer to trace this family and descendants, but with the exception of one daughter, Eleanor,⁶ with poor success. Either Eunice⁶ or Betsey⁶ is supposed to have married a man by the name of Wing, who lived at one time near Albany, N. Y., and had a son, Freeman Wing. Every effort so far to trace them has been in vain. (See Appendix F.)

ZENAS CLEVELAND,⁶ Jr., son of Zenas and Eunice (Ludington) Cleveland, b. Sept. —, 1778, m. Deborah Kennedy (or Canada), but the date and place of his marriage, or the date and place of her birth, or names of her parents, not learned. They had no children. She died in Litchfield, Bradford county, Pa., March 22, 1849. Her husband was a burly, thick set and fearless man, as fond of a rough-and-tumble fight at militia musters, as the proverbial Irishman at Donnybrook Fair. He was a very successful farmer, and considered even wealthy at one time, by his neighbors. He was quite blind for nearly ten years before his death, and was kindly cared for in the family of a Mr. Wolcott for many years previous to that event, which occurred Jan. 13, 1873, in his 95th year.

ELEANOR CLEVELAND,⁶ daughter of Zenas and Eunice (Ludington) Cleveland, b. April 10, 1780, m. first, in Woodstock, Conn., in 1800, Caleb Burgess, son of Samuel and Hannah (Sturtevant) Burgess. He was b. in Middleboro', Mass., about the year 1774, and d. in Ithaca, N. Y., April 14, 1820. He was a shoemaker by occupation. She m. second, in Ithaca, N. Y., March 9, 1821, Solomon Hallett, son of William Hallett. He was b. in Dec., 1758, and d. in Afton, Chenango county, N. Y., June 4, 1841. She d. in same place, Aug. 27, 1869, in the 90th year of her age. (See Appendix G.)

Samuel Burgess,⁷ m. first, Hannah Loder, of Ithaca, N. Y., by whom he had two daughters, Diana,⁸ and Harriet,⁸ both dead. His second wife was Elizabeth Dougherty, a native of Philadelphia, Pa., who d. Aug. 7, 1875, without issue. He d. near Belle Vernon, Fayette county, Pa.

James Burgess,⁷ d. in Greenwich, Huron county, Ohio, and his three daughters m., and live in Hillsdale county, Mich.

Eunice Burgess,⁷ who m. Hiram Hallett, but now a widow, is living at White Pine, Lycoming county, Pa.

Hannah Burgess,⁷ now wid. of Moses Draper, is living in Hudson, Ohio. Her first husband was John DeGraw.

William Cleveland Burgess,⁷ res. Springfield, Pa.

Eleanor Burgess,⁷ wid. of Fredk. Swartwood, res. Mitchell Creek, Tioga county, Pa.

Miriam Hallett,⁷ wife of Albert Rounds, and Sarah Jane Hallett,⁷ widow of Nelson Cook, reside in Afton, Chenango county, N. Y.

RACHEL CLEVELAND,⁵ the sixth child of Benjamin and Rachel Cleveland, was b. in Canterbury, Conn., May 18, 1750. She m. in Tolland, Conn., in 1777, Oliver Hamblin, son of Joel and Polly (Channing) Hamblin. He was b. in Enfield, Conn., Sept. 3, 1751; d. in East Brookfield, Vt., Oct. 28, 1829. She d. in same place, Sept. 27, 1837. Farmer.

They had six children, as follows:

1. Polly,⁶ b. —, 1778; d. Feb. 24, 1808.
2. Betsey,⁶ b. May 6, 1780; d. Oct. 13, 1830.

4. Theodotia,⁶ b. March 9, 1785; res. North Montpelier, Vt.
5. James,⁶ b. May 24, 1788; d. April 2, 1865.
6. Nancy,⁶ b. March 8, 1791; d. Aug. 15, 1868.

Rachel Cleveland,⁵ was a large and stately woman, of indomitable pluck and courage, and a most industrious worker. At the burning of Royalton, Vt., by the Indians, in 1784, she and her children barely escaped with their lives, and concealed themselves in the forest hard by. She was separated for more than three weeks from her husband, and each supposed the other killed by the savages. The next child born to them (Theodotia) was marked by the terrible fright to which the mother had been subjected. They did not return to Royalton, but settled in Brookfield, some twelve or fifteen miles further to the northward, and about two miles from the place where Samuel Hovey located some six or seven years later.

In the old cemetery not far from the East Brookfield Post Office are two grave stones, with the following inscriptions upon them :

"Mr. Oliver Hamblin, died Oct. 28, 1829, in the 79th year of his age."

"Rachel, widow of Oliver Hamblin, died Sept. 27, 1837, in her 88th year."

Persis Cleveland,⁵ was of small stature, fair complexion, raven black hair and black eyes. She was very ambitious, with no dower except her beauty, and her marriage into one of the aristocratic families of Connecticut was bitterly opposed by some of her husband's relatives. She was a devoted wife and mother, though somewhat fretful as she grew in years; aided her husband to acquire a handsome property, and reared a large family to habits of energetic industry.

She and her husband were buried in the old cemetery some distance from the village, in the eastern part of the township. The inscriptions upon the marble are as follows :

Rufus Cleveland,⁵ was a farmer. He was of medium height, florid complexion, light curly hair, and blue eyes. Was a fine singer, fond of a good story, and industrious and temperate in his habits. He served as a soldier during the Revolutionary war, and paid his marriage fee in one hundred dollars of Continental currency. Being employed by Capt. Chamberlain upon his farm, he conveniently courted and in due time married his first wife, Miss Mollie, eldest daughter of his employer; and when his father-in-law removed from Ellington, in Tolland county, to Warehouse Point, in East Windsor, Hartford county, Conn., he, with his wife and family, accompanied him. This was in the spring of 1782 or 1783. He remained in East Windsor until the spring of 1787, when he removed to Barkhamstead, Litchfield county, Conn., and purchased a farm of his own on Wallen's Hill. Here his wife died in the autumn of 1807, of a fever contracted from nursing a neighbor's wife, and who also died of the same fever, which at that time prevailed as an epidemic in the neighborhood. Her kindness to the sick, and readiness to watch with and care for them at all times, made her greatly beloved, and her departure from earth was mourned as if a ministering angel had been taken away indeed. In the old burying-ground on the "Hill" may be seen the graves of this worthy couple, and the inscriptions upon the headstones placed there are as follows:

"In memory of Rufus Cleveland, who died Feb. 22, 1838, aged 82 years."

"In memory of Mrs. Mary Cleveland, wife of Rufus Cleveland, and daughter of Capt. James Chamberlain, who died Novem. 13, 1807, in the 49th year of her age."

His second wife, who died of cancer after a distressing and protracted illness, was buried in the village cemetery, in Winsted. The inscription on her tombstone is simply—

"Alice, wife of Rufus Cleveland, died Oct. 14, 1833."

Rufus Cleveland⁵ was in his eighty-fourth year when he died, and not in his eighty-third, as the inscription indicates. As will be noted, four children are yet living—two by the first and two by the second wife—but very soon the places which know them now, will know them no more forever.

(An account of Capt. James Chamberlain and his descendants will be found in Appendix J.)

4. Chester,⁷ b. Jan. 5, 1812; d. Jan. 23, 1812.

Alexander Cleveland,⁶ was a man of small stature, and decided opinions. He represented his town in the Legislature of the State several terms, and was justly esteemed for his sterling integrity. Few men could equal him as a teller of stories and anecdotes, and his fund of them seemed inexhaustible. He was a Whig in politics, and a Calvinist in religion, and ready to defend his views whenever attacked. His death was greatly lamented by his kindred and friends.

RUFUS CLEVELAND,⁷ second son of Alexander and Mary (Kinne) Cleveland, b. in Barkhamstead, Conn., Dec. 18, 1807, m. first, in Winchester, Conn., Dec. 9, 1830, Sally Ann Burnham, dau. of Daniel and Clarissa (Carr) Burnham. 7. Ellen Annette,⁸ } b. Sept. 5, 1842; d. Aug. 21, 1861.

Rufus Cleveland,⁷ is a farmer by occupation, and resides on "Wallen's Hill," Barkhamstead, (Winsted Society), Conn. He has represented his town in the State Legislature several terms, and filled various offices of trust conferred upon him with strict fidelity. His devoted love and kindness to his second wife, who became entirely blind for several years before her death, only serves to show that under a somewhat rough exterior, he possesses the tenderness of a woman combined with the best characteristics of the true gentleman. Though he has passed the allotted age of man, he is still vigorous and hearty, and content to spend the evening of his days among the hills of Litchfield county, and in sight of his birthplace.

GEORGE B. CLEVELAND,⁸ eldest son of Rufus and Sally Ann (Burnham) Cleveland, b. in Barkhamstead, Conn., Dec.

4. Zebina Smith,⁸ b. Nov. 6, 1845.

Alexander P. Cleveland,⁷ also represented his township in the State Legislature, though less of a politician than his brother Rufus.⁷ He was a plain, unostentatious man of acknowledged piety, combined with the highest moral principles, and a most exemplary Christian life. Of him may be said in the words of the poet Halleck :

"None knew him but to love him,
Or named him but to praise."

A plain marble slab marks his grave in Winsted Cemetery, where so many of his kindred are buried.

ANNA K. CLEVELAND,⁸ eldest child of Alexander P. and Aurelia (Smith) Cleveland, b. in Barkhamstead, Conn., May 17, 1838, m. in same place, Sept. 27, 1857, Riley William Smith, son of Lorraine and Polly (Twining) Smith. He was b. in 10. Edward Hooker,⁷ b. May 15, 1827.

11. Horace Gillette,⁷ b. Jan. 3, 1832.

Oren Cleveland,⁶ was brought up by his maternal grandparents at Warehouse Point, East Windsor, Conn. A good student at the academy in the village, he graduated with credit to his preceptors and himself. After his marriage and removal to Litchfield county, Conn., he was much sought for as a school teacher, and taught successfully in various places two summers and fourteen winters. He entered the employ of the firm of Belknap & Hammersly, Booksellers in Hartford, as a canvasser, and traveled over a considerable portion of the New England States. He also sold clocks for Riley Whiting of Winsted, extensively in the New England States and in Eastern New York and Pennsylvania. In 1839 he came to Geauga county, Ohio, to be near his eldest daughter, where he resided up to the death of his wife in 1869. In the fall of that year he took up his residence with his youngest son, a merchant in Cleveland, Ohio. In stature he is about five feet eight inches, and in his prime of life of ruddy complexion, with black hair and dark blue eyes. He was a superior horseman, and was accounted the finest "trooper" in his company. His kindness of heart, combined with a natural politeness of manners and rare conversational powers, not to omit to mention a fund of anecdotes and incidents of travel, made him hosts of friends wherever he went.

Although nearly a century has passed since he first saw the light of day, he still enjoys a fair degree of health, with his mental faculties unimpaired. His memory of persons and past events is certainly very remarkable, to say the least. He has invariably acted with the Whig and Republican parties, though never radical in partisanship. About the year 1814 he united with the Congregational Society in Winsted, Conn., and continued without other ecclesiastical connection until 1872, when, after much reading and reflection, he was confirmed by Rt. Rev. G. T. Bedell, in Grace (Episcopal) Church in Cleveland, Ohio. Contented and happy, in peace and charity with all men, he cheerfully awaits his Master's call from the church militant on earth to the church triumphant in heaven.

His children who grew to adult age were nine in number, and all living.

(For the ancestry of Esther Allen, his wife, see Appendix K.)

In the fall of 1787, he, with others, took a drove of swine to Boston, but failing to dispose of them to their satisfaction, Mr. Pearson chartered a vessel to take his live stock to Halifax. Adverse gales drove the vessel out of her course, and she was captured by a Spanish privateer, and he taken to Algiers, and sold into slavery. Nine years elapsed before he escaped and arrived in Savannah, Ga. His wife, after waiting his return seven years, mourned him as dead, and married again. Learning this fact from his brother, and exacting a sacred pledge that his whereabouts should never be revealed to her during his lifetime, he remained in Savannah, opened a butcher's shop, and prospered for several years, when he died suddenly after a short illness. The pledge given was faithfully observed, and she knew nothing of the matter until after his decease. (For further genealogical information in regard to this branch, see Appendix L.)

Concerning Phebe Cleveland,⁵ her granddaughter, Mrs. Alfred Parsons, of Earlville, N. Y., writes me, May 15, 1878, as follows: "My knowledge of my 'mother's' parents is very limited. Have no recollection of grandfather, nor of any of his peculiar traits of character. Can remember grandmother only as an old lady, seated in her rocking chair, knitting or reading. The last three years of her life her mental faculties were much impaired by a shock of palsy, and I was only ten years old when she was thus mentally benumbed. She was not corpulent, and I remember she had a slim hand and long fingers. The expression of her countenance was that of sternness and sadness — never laughed much." No stone with the proper inscription marks her grave in Sherburne cemetery, though there is said to be one to the memory of her last husband. Who of her descendants will see that this token of respect to her memory is no longer neglected?

Jacob Pearson,⁶ only son and youngest child of Ephraim and Phebe (Cleveland) Pearson, m. first, in Charleston, S. C., Dec. 25, 1809, Mrs. Eliza Anderson, maiden name not learned, or any particulars of her parentage or family. He brought her to Manchester, where she remained a few months, and then returned South to spend the winter; was taken ill and d. in Charleston, Feb. 3, 1811. He m. second, in Manchester, Vt., June 4, 1812, Rhoda Ewers, dau. of John and Sally (Morley) Ewers. She was b. in Gill, Franklin county, Mass., Dec. 22, 1790; d. in or near Council Bluffs, Iowa, Oct. 30, 1846. He d. in same place, Dec. 20, 1846. It appears that Rhoda, wife of Jacob Pearson,⁶ was a very devout though credulous woman in all matters appertaining to religion. She joined the followers of Joseph Smith, the Mormon preacher, but became disenchanted subsequently, perhaps about the time she was taken sick at Council Bluffs, where a portion of the Mormons had encamped after being driven from the States. Her husband was a man of fine appearance, and of indomitable energy. Merchant. He had no children by his first wife.

Children, by wife Rhoda :

8. Henry,⁷ b. May 24, 1830; d. Nov. 17, 1846.

Mrs. Phebe C. Barnard, and Mrs. Adaline Newman, have each kindly aided the compiler to gather the necessary statistics concerning the family of Jacob Pearson,⁶ their father. After he learned of the death of his father, Ephraim Pearson, in Savannah, Ga., he was accustomed to sign his own name as Ephraim J. Pearson.

Joseph O'Brien,⁶ eldest son and child of Timothy and Phebe (Cleveland) O'Brien, m. in Sherburne, Chenango county, N. Y., March 18, 1824, Clarissa Stetson, dau. of Benjamin and Mary (Johnson) Stetson. She was b. in Barnard, Windsor county, Vt., Dec. 25, 1794; d. in Sangerfield, Oneida county, N. Y., Oct. 1, 1855. He d. in Sherburne, Chenango county, N. Y., May 2, 1826. She was, unfortunately, deranged for many years previous to her death. No children.

Timothy O'Brien,⁶ second son and child of Timothy and Phebe (Cleveland) O'Brien, m. first, in Middlefield, Otsego county, N. Y., Oct. 25, 1822, Mary Chase, dau. of James and Polly (Utley) Chase. She was b. in Pomfret, Windham county, Conn., Oct. 6, 1799; d. in Poolville, Madison county, N. Y., Sept. 14, 1874. He m. second, in Sherburne, Chenango county, N. Y., Jan. 1, 1875, Minerva Waterhouse, dau. of David and Betsey (Luther) Waterhouse. She was b. in Hanover, York county, Pa., July 26, 1820. He is a farmer; res. Poolville, N. Y.

Children, by wife Mary, both b. in Madison county, N. Y. :

1. James Albert Chase,⁷ b. Nov. 11, 1823; d. Sept. 15, 1871.
2. Almira Jane,⁷ b. Nov. 29, 1824.

[Mr. Timothy O'Brien, of Poolville, N. Y., is one of the "six surviving grandchildren" (1879) of Benjamin and Rachel Cleveland. They may here be recapitulated in the order of their respective ages. Theodotia Hamblin,⁶ 94; Oren Cleveland,⁶ 94; Timothy O'Brien,⁶ 80; Charles C. W. Cleveland,⁶ 76; Mrs. Dana Ayres, (Alice Cleveland,⁶) 70; and John K. Cleveland,⁶ 68.]

Drusilla O'Brien,⁶ eldest daughter and third child of Timothy and Phebe (Cleveland) O'Brien, m. in Sherburne, Chenango county, N. Y., Jan. 8, 1824. Simeon Gilbert Reese, son of Jacob and Anna (Gillett) Reese. He was b. in Sherburne, Chenango county, N. Y., Oct. 6, 1799; d. in Hamilton, Madison county, N. Y., March 5, 1871. She d. in Sherburne, N. Y., Nov. 2, 1838.

3. Rachel Emeline Clarinda,⁷ b. Aug. 31, 1829; d. in 1858.
4. Haskell Galusha Cleveland,⁷ b. April 19, 1832.
5. Jacob Gillett,⁷ b. Dec. 26, 1833.
6. Martha Ann,⁷ b. May 14, 1838; d. Oct. 24, 1838.

Rachel E. C. Reese,⁷ became the wife of Geo. Edmund Baker, Esq., of the "Baker Family" Vocalists, and sang with them for several years. She died of spotted fever, in Waukegan, Lake county, Ill., Aug. 11, 1858. Her musical talent was remarkable, and added much to the fame of these singers.

Sarah O'Brien,⁶ youngest daughter and child of Timothy and Phebe (Cleveland) O'Brien, m. in Sherburne, Chenango county, N. Y., May 31, 1827, Ezra Stetson, son of Benjamin and Mary (Johnson) Stetson. He was b. in Barnard, Vt., July 25, 1798; d. in Bouckville, Madison county, N. Y., May 28, 1863. She d. in Sangerfield, Oneida county, N. Y., Aug. 7, 1863.

4. Adelia Drusilla,⁷ b. July 3, 1840; res. Marshall, Mich.

This concludes the records for the portion of this genealogy other than the Appendix. In that, extensive additions have been made to all that has preceded, and much more might have been added without exhausting the material on hand and constantly accumulating. Should the compiler ever attempt another edition, many advantageous changes in the general arrangement of the work could doubtless be made. But he indulges the hope that what has been placed before the reader will not appear ambiguous in any sense, or difficult to be comprehended and understood.

It should be stated that a large and complete Genealogy of the Clevelands in this country is in active preparation by James Butler Cleveland,⁸ Esq., late of Washington, D. C., but now residing in Oneonta, Otsego county, N. Y. So that this work is in no sense a substitute for the one to be issued at the earliest possible period by him. His assiduity and skill in his researches, so far as the writer can judge, entitle him to rank as one of the best genealogists in the country. Every one who bears the honored name of Cleveland, or is a descendant of any one by that name, near or remote, should put themselves at once into communication with him, and cheerfully, and withal promptly, contribute what they know or can obtain about their pedigrees in the Cleveland line. The years are passing rapidly by, and every day the task becomes more difficult as the elder members drop away, and what they alone knew, and could have imparted when living, is thus lost forever. No one can tell how valuable the records of his pedigree may prove to him, or to his descendants. Certain it is that very many will regret that they neglected to perfect and preserve them.

Copy of a letter of inquiry—written by Rev. John Cleveland, of Ipswich, Essex county, Mass., in 1759, to another John Cleveland, Maltster, etc., in England, and the statements in which are, or should be, conclusive as to the pedigree of all New England Clevelands—is here inserted. This Rev. John Cleveland,⁴ a son of Josiah³ and Abigail (Paine) Cleveland, was b. in Canterbury, Conn., April 12, 1722, (O. S.), and could not have been mistaken in such a plain and positive account of his father's grandfather. It is not known that an answer was received from the opulent brewer or maltster, and perhaps the letter of inquiry never reached him. The copy, as originally made by the reverend gentleman himself, is in my possession, and is submitted herewith verbatim et literatim:

“SIR:

“Being informed (by the Bearer, one Samuel Bates) of your Name and the Place of your abode, I supposed it highly probable that you are of the same Family that I sprang from. My Great Grandfather's Name was Moses Cleveland, and came from Ipswich, in Suffolk. He was young when he came to New-England, and was an apprentice to a joyner, and came with His Master. He settled in Woburn, near Boston, married, and had seven Sons, besides Daughters, and his sons all left Children, and all in New-England, of the Name, are his Posterity, and all spell the Name as I do, tho' we are not certain that we spell it exactly as the same Family does in England. Because, as the said Moses was young when he left England, and could not read and write, if I am not misinformed. I have seen the Name spelt as I spell it in Books Printed in England, but most commonly I find it spelt thus, Cleveland, or Clevland, but as you are undoubtedly of y^e same Family, if These Lines should come to your Hands I should esteem it a Favour that you would write me, and give me some account of your Family. I am a Minister of y^e Gospel and Pastor of a Chh. in Ipswich, in the county of Essex, and Province of The Massachusetts Bay, in New-England.

“Excuse the Boldness and Freedom of your Humble servant and Unknown Friend,

JOHN CLEAVELAND.

“Ipswich, New-England, Dec. 25, 1759.”

The superscription, copy of which was also retained, is as follows :

“TO MR. JOHN CLEAVELAND, Malster in Ipswich, in County of Suffolk,
Living in Silent St.,
Near St. Clemence Church,
England.”

The compiler so far has made no serious attempt to trace the pedigree of Moses Cleveland,¹ in England. To those who have a taste for “the boast of heraldry,” the following is given, concerning the family :

“CLEVELAND — (Durham, Eng.)

“Coat of Arms.—Per chevron, sable and ermine, a chevron engrailed, counter changed.

“Crest.—A demi-old man habited, azure, having on his head a cap, gules, turned up with fur, holding in his dexter hand a spear, proper, having from the blade a golden cord passing behind and coiled in the left hand.

“Motto.—Pro Deo, et Patria.”

Mr. Hinman, in his “Puritan Settlers,” gives the following account of the name: “CLEVELAND, CLEAVELAND.—This family probably derived the name from the town of Cleveland, in the county of Durham, England. The principal branch was seated in the county of York. Early in the 13th century, Sir Guy de Cleveland was present at the siege of Boulogne in France, afterwards at the battle of Poitiers, when he commanded the spearmen. And a branch of this family went into Devonshire, and continued until the male line of the family became extinct.” The word itself is a corruption of “Cliff-land,” thus certifying beyond question its English origin.

CLEVELAND.

APPENDIX

EDWARD WINN was of Woburn as early as 1641; made a freeman, 1643; and taxed in Woburn in the rate for the country, Sept. 8, 1645. By his wife Joanna he had, Dec. 5, 1641, a son named Increase—the first birth entered in the records of Woburn. His daughters Ann and Elizabeth, and son Joseph, probably had their birth in England before. Joanna, wife of Edward Winn, dying March 8, 1649, he m. second, Aug. 10, 1649, Sarah Beal. She also dying March 15, 1680, he m. third, Ann or Hannah, wid. of Nicholas Wood, who survived him, apparently, till 1686. He d. in Woburn, Sept. 5, 1682. In his will, made May 6, 1682, he names his son Increase; his son Joseph's daughter Sarah; the three youngest children of his daughter Ann, wife of Moses Cleveland; and the three youngest children of his daughter Elizabeth, wife of George Polly. His widow likewise made her will, Sept. 9, 1685, which being proved Nov. 1, 1686, is an indication she was then deceased.

Ann Winn m., Sept. 26, 1648, Moses Cleveland,¹ of Woburn. (See page 5, for their children.)

Elizabeth Winn m., May 21, 1649, George Polly, a carpenter by trade; land ordered to be laid out to him in Woburn, Feb. 3, 1649; chosen a surveyor of fences in 1665, and his right to share in the common lands of the town was acknowledged in 1668.

Children:

1. John, b. Dec. 16, 1650.
2. Joseph, b. Dec. 25, 1652.
3. George, b. Jan. 4, 1656.

“Widow Hannah Winn” d. Feb. 18, 1723.

In reference to the children of Moses¹ and Ann (Winn) Cleveland, the space assigned to this work allows but brief mention. Each will be taken up in the order of birth.

MOSES CLEVELAND,² eldest son and child of Moses¹ and Ann (Winn) Cleveland, was b. in Woburn, Mass., Sept. 1, 1651, nearly three years after recorded date of marriage. The compiler is inclined to believe that he was a sea-faring man. He m. Oct. 4, 1676, (according to the Woburn records), Ruth Norton, perhaps a dau. of Francis and Mary Norton, of Charlestown, or, more probably, a dau. of Nicholas and Elizabeth Norton, of Weymouth, Mass. In support of the latter opinion is the fact that Nicholas Norton, Jr., was of Edgartown, (Martha's Vineyard), Mass., in 1669, and that the numerous families of Clevelands on the Island are descendants of Moses² and Ruth (Norton) Cleveland. Hence it is reasonable to suppose that near relationship to the Nortons of Martha's Vineyard, brought the descendants of Moses Cleveland² to settle there. Mr. Richard J. Pease, of Edgartown, the historian of the Island, confirms this in a letter to Nehemiah Cleveland, Esq., of Brooklyn, N. Y., dated Feb. 19, 1855, in which he says: “You are right in the conjecture formed that our Clevelands come from Moses and Ruth. Ruth Norton was the daughter of Nicholas Norton, the ancestor of all our Nortons. Before his removal to this town he was of ‘Weymouth,’ where some of his children were born. Nicholas died here in 1690, aged 80 years; his wife Elizabeth soon after him, in the same year.”

According to the Woburn records, Moses² and Ruth (Norton) Cleveland had but two children in ten years, namely:

1. Anna,³ b. Nov. 7, 1677; m. — Bell.
2. Joseph,³ b. March 31, 1686; probably settled in Nantucket or Martha's Vineyard.

But there was also a son later, perhaps b. in Southold, Long Island, N. Y., whose name was

3. Ichabod,³ b. June 25, 1695,

Who m. in Southold, N. Y., Feb. 18, 1716, Anna Moore, who was b. March 5, 1697, and d. May 6, 1785, by whom he had a family of seven children, as follows, all b. in Southold:

1. Anna,⁴ b. Dec. 23, 1717; m. William Case.
2. Mehetabel,⁴ b. Nov. 26, 1724; m. first, Fitzjohn Young, and second, Micah Horton.
3. Joseph,⁴ b. June 27, 1727.
4. Abigail,⁴ b. March 17, 1729; m. Uriah Terry.
5. Mary,⁴ b. June 22, 1731; m. James Hart.
6. Benjamin,⁴ b. June 10, 1736.
7. Ichabod,⁴ b. Feb. 19, 1739.

JOSEPH CLEVELAND,⁴ m. Feb. 12, 1750, Mary Horton, dau. of Jonathan and Mary (Tuthill) Horton. She was b. Feb. 8, 1730.

Children, all b. in Southold, N. Y.:

1. Mary,⁵ b. May 29, 1752; m. first, Thomas Hubbard, and second, Elias Grave.
2. Joseph,⁵ b. May 24, 1754; d. March 25, 1756.
3. Mehetabel,⁵ b. Jan. 16, 1757; m. Ezra Griswold.
4. Joseph,⁵ b. Oct. 7, 1759; d. Jan. 30, 1840, unm.
5. Abigail,⁵ b. April 17, 1762; d. Sept. 24, 1805, unm.
6. Lazarus,⁵ b. Dec. 29, 1764; d. March 5, 1847, unm.
7. Benjamin Norton,⁵ b. Aug. 10, 1767.
8. Anna,⁵ b. Sept. 19, 1770; m. Joseph Moore.

BENJAMIN N. CLEVELAND,⁵ b. in Southold, Aug. 10, 1767, m. first, in Southold, in 1790, Mary Gardiner, dau. of David and Jerusha (Strong) Gardiner. He was a watch and clock maker, residing in Newark, N. J., where his wife Mary d. May 25, 1795, aged 24.

Children:

1. Sophronia,⁶ b. Feb. 17, 1791.
2. Mary,⁶ b. Nov. 25, 1793.
3. Joseph,⁶ b. Oct. 11, 1794; d. May 11, 1795.

He m. second, Mrs. Sarepta (Skinner) Oliver, dau. of Jonathan Skinner, of Springfield, N. J. She d. in 1862, and is buried at Edenton, N. C.; he d. Dec. 20, 1837, and is buried at Newark, N. J. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, Newark. He had by wife Sarepta seven children.

BENJAMIN CLEVELAND,⁴ had two wives, names unknown. By his first wife he had a son, Ichabod,⁵ b. in Elizabethtown, N. J., in 1765, who m. in 1784, Katurah Baldwin. By his second wife he had a son, Benjamin,⁵ b. in same place, Feb. 14, 1781, who m. Elizabeth Gibbs. She was b. in Elizabethtown, N. J., March 25, 1784; d. May 10, 1855. Benjamin Cleveland,⁵ d. in Elizabethtown, N. J., March 25, 1857. His descendants are numerous.

ICHABOD CLEVELAND,⁴ remained in Southold, N. Y., and m. Mrs. Anna (Corey) Horton, widow of Lazarus Horton. She d. in Southold,

Sept. 25, 1805, aged 73. He d. Oct. 7, 1818, and is buried in the cemetery of the First Church, where a stone marks his grave. They had but one child, a son:

1. Moses,⁵ b. Dec. 6, 1770,

Who m. Jan. 23, 1793, Parnel Conklin, dau. of Jonathan and Parnel (Booth) Conklin. She was b. in Southold, Feb. 16, 1772; d. in same place, Nov. 5, 1857. He d. in Southold, Nov. 14, 1848.

Children, all b. in Southold:

1. Moses Conklin,⁶ b. July 4, 1795; res. Southold, N. Y.
2. William Henry,⁶ (M. D.), b. Jan. 9, 1797.
3. Parnel,⁶ b. April —, 1799; d. May 19, 1800.
4. Joseph,⁶ b. March 2, 1803; d. March 13, 1852.

MOSES C. CLEVELAND,⁶ eldest son of Moses⁵ and Parnel (Conklin) Cleveland, was born in Southold, L. I., July 4, 1795. He attended the school of Master Wines Osborn, an instructor of local fame, who taught during many years in "the Brick School House," a building owned by twenty-seven proprietors, of whom Moses Cleveland⁵ was one. They sold it, Dec. 30, 1816, to the Trustees of School Dist. No. 5, of the Town of Southold. It stood upon the site now occupied by the Chapel of the Presbyterian Church. The building was taken down in 1844.

In December, 1812, he went to live as an apprenticed cordwainer for three years with Deacon Nathaniel Hubbard, who was doing a large business in tanning and currying, and in the manufacture of boots and shoes, at Mattituck, L. I. He faithfully fulfilled his obligations, won the confidence and esteem of the family in which he lived, and became a skillful workman. Afterwards, in August, 1816, he went to Catskill, N. Y., where he wrought in fine work for a year in the employ of Mr. Gideon Reynolds. He subsequently enlarged his field of observation, and his practice as a skillful workman, in Madison, Hudson City, Goshen, and Newburgh, N. Y.

On the 2nd of June, 1819, he was married by the Rev. Lathrop Thompson, to Sarah, the eldest daughter of Deacon Nathaniel and Sarah (Reeve) Hubbard, in whose family he had lived during his apprenticeship.

About the year 1823 a village began to spring up around the Suffolk County Court House. This village has more recently become known as Riverhead. Mr. Cleveland made this the place of his residence in September, 1824. Judge Miller, in his Centennial History of the Town of Riverhead, speaks of Mr. Cleveland as being, in 1825, one of the active business men of the village. Mrs. Cleveland, after a few days' illness, died there, May 3, 1832, aged 35 years. On the 11th of May, 1833, he was married by the Rev. Abraham Luce to Miss Ency Hubbard, sister of his first wife, who was born at Mattituck, Dec. 16, 1802.

From his earliest years his Christian principles were sound, his moral character was high, and his integrity in business and other relations strict and trustworthy; but it was not until July, 1838, that he made a public confession of his Christian faith and became a full member of the First Church of Southold. Five years later, he was elected to the office of Deacon, and he has fulfilled the duties of the office for thirty-six years. Soon after he became a Deacon, he was chosen to be one of the Trustees of the Church. For a long course of years he has been a Director of the Suffolk County Mutual Insurance Company; and from the origin of Southold Savings Bank, in 1858, his name has been prominent on its Board of Trustees. He has repeatedly filled various offices of public trust to which he has been called by the votes of his fellow townsmen; and his character and usefulness have often been manifest as the guardian of children whose orphanage has caused them to need some wise and faithful man to fill the father's place. He has been especially active in the promotion of temperance throughout the county, and of religion on a far wider field. Perhaps there is no other man living who has attended so many of the meetings of the Suffolk County Temperance Association throughout its whole existence for the last twenty-nine years.

He had but one child,

1. Nathaniel Hubbard,⁷ b. June 17, 1834,

Who has given much attention to the genealogy and history of his branch of the Clevelands. Res. Southold, L. I.

WILLIAM HENRY CLEVELAND,⁸ second son of Moses⁵ and Parnel (Conklin) Cleveland, was born at Southold, L. I., Jan. 9, 1797, where he attended the school of Master Wines Osborn, with his elder brother Moses. In December, 1816, he was examined by the Commissioners of Schools and duly licensed by their certificate as a teacher in the public schools of Southold. He first taught in the village of Oyster Ponds, now known as Orient, L. I. The following spring he entered "Clinton Academy," at East Hampton, L. I., boarding with Rev. Ebenezer Phillips, the principal, who was also pastor of the Presbyterian Church in that place. This academy has the honor of having been one of the first two chartered by the Regents of the University of New York State in 1784. It was named in honor of Gov. George Clinton, by whom it was presented with a bell. During the years 1818 and 1819 Mr. Cleveland was the Preceptor in School Dist. No. 9 of the town of Smithtown, L. I., where, according to the custom of the day, he "boarded around." There he decided to be a physician, and during the time he taught there, was also a student with the resident physician, Dr. C. H. Havens. He m. Feb. 8, 1820, Mary Ann, daughter of Capt. Jonathan and Rebecca (King) Terry, of Oyster Ponds, where she was born June 2, 1798, and where she died precisely ten months after her marriage, Dec. 8, 1820. He then entered Yale College, graduating in 1823. On the twenty-second day of August, 1824, he married Zilpha Thayer, first born of thirteen children of Ebenezer and Phebe (Crowell) Thayer, who was born at Greenfield, Mass., Jan. 22, 1804. He first settled in Enfield, Mass., where he was a successful practitioner for ten years, and then located himself at Shelburne Falls, Mass. After several years, he removed to Springfield, Mass., where he resided until his death, which occurred Feb. 21, 1852. He was the father of eight children, the first five b. in Enfield, Mass., the others in Shelburne Falls, Mass.:

1. William Henry,⁷ b. July 23, 1825.
2. Ebenezer Thayer,⁷ b. June 1, 1828; d. Sept. 23, 1828.
3. Moses Conklin,⁷ b. Nov. 21, 1829; d. Dec. 13, 1829.
4. Parnel Conklin,⁷ b. Oct. 9, 1830.
5. George Lyman,⁷ b. April 24, 1833; d. May 16, 1835.
6. John Thayer,⁷ b. Aug. 16, 1835.
7. Mary Ann Terry,⁷ b. Jan. 20, 1838.
8. George Moses,⁷ b. Oct. 26, 1840.

Dr. Cleveland was a member of the First Congregational Church in Springfield, of which Rev. Samuel Osgood, D. D., was pastor. His wife Zilpha was also a consistent church member. She d. Sept. 24, 1868.

JOSEPH CLEVELAND,⁶ youngest son of Moses⁵ and Parnel (Conklin) Cleveland, was born in Southold, March 2, 1803. He early chose to learn the trade at which his father worked, and was apprenticed to a house carpenter at Patchogue, L. I. He became a skillful workman, and afterwards went to Brooklyn, L. I., where, Aug. 5, 1824, he married Jemima Abrams, dau. of Joseph and Martha (Vermilye) Abrams, who was b. in Brooklyn, Jan. 26, 1808. He d. in Southold, March 13, 1852.

Children, all b. in Southold:

1. Moses,⁷ b. Feb. 17, 1825.
2. Catharine,⁷ b. March 3, 1827.
3. Henry Conklin,⁷ b. July 23, 1829.
4. Sarah Hubbard,⁷ b. Oct. 21, 1831.
5. Parnel,⁷ b. Dec. 10, 1833.
6. Joseph Benjamin,⁷ b. Nov. 27, 1838.
7. Mary Zilpha,⁷ b. Oct. 26, 1842; d. Oct. 30, 1865.
8. John Demarest,⁷ b. Aug. 4, 1845.

HANNAH CLEVELAND,² the eldest daughter and second child of Moses¹ and Ann (Winn) Cleveland, b. in Woburn, Mass., Aug. 4, 1653, m. in same place, Sept. 24, 1677, Thomas Henshaw, whose name occurs in the List for the Meetinghouse rate, 1672, but not in the Tax List for 1666, nor among those who had right in the common lands of Woburn, 1668. Of his parentage nothing is learned. He d. Jan. 16, 1700.

Children of Thomas and Hannah² (Cleveland) Henshaw were as follows, all b. in Woburn:

1. Elizabeth,³ b. July 30, 1678; m. John Manser.
2. Thomas,³ b. Nov. 17, 1680; m. Mary Brooks.
3. Hannah,³ b. May 21, 1683.
4. William,³ b. Nov. 25, 1685.
5. Samuel,³ b. March 13, 1688.
6. Ebenezer,³ b. March 1, 1691; d. Feb. 28, 1756.
7. Josiah,³ b. March 1, 1695; d. Jan. 16, 1700.

[The name Henshaw but seldom occurs in Woburn records; it is there almost invariably spelled "Henshow," "Hensher," or "Hincher."]

AARON CLEVELAND,² second son and third child of Moses¹ and Ann (Winn) Cleveland, b. in Woburn, Mass., Jan. 10, 1655, m. first, in Woburn, Sept. 26, 1675, Dorcas Wilson, probably dau. of John Wilson, who first appears upon the tax lists in Woburn, in the rate for the country, assessed Aug. 26, 1666. His two children, John Wilson, Jr., and Dorcas, must have been born before he came to Woburn, and he d. July 2, 1687. Aaron² and Dorcas (Wilson) Cleveland had a family of ten children, as follows:

1. Dorcas,³ b. Oct. 29, 1676; m. John Knight.
2. Hannah,³ b. Dec. 18, 1678; d. June 13, 1679.
3. Aaron,³ b. July 9, 1680; m. Abigail Waters.
4. Hannah,³ (again), b. June 2, 1687; m. — Beard.
5. Moses,³ b. Feb. 24, 1690; m. Mary Johnson.
6. Sarah,³ b. March 5, 1692; m. Job Richardson.
7. Miriam,³ b. July 9, 1694.
8. Isabel,³ b. April 6, 1697; d. Dec. 7, 1714.
9. Ann,³ b. —, 1699.
10. Benjamin,³ b. May 16, 1701; m. Anna Church.

After the death of wife Dorcas, in Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 29, 1714, he m. a second wife, Prudence —, but had no more children, and d. Sept. 14, 1716, aged, according to gravestone, 62 years.

AARON CLEVELAND,³ eldest son of Aaron² and Dorcas (Wilson) Cleveland, a carpenter by trade, b. in Woburn, Mass., July 9, 1680, m. in Woburn, Jan. 1, 1702, Abigail Waters, a dau. of Samuel and Mary Waters, of Medford, Mass. She was b. Nov. 29, 1683. After the birth of their second child, he appears to have removed to Medford, and thence to Cambridge; after that again to Medford, and subsequently to Charlestown. His mother, Dorcas, d. at his house in Cambridge, in 1714, and his eldest son, Aaron,⁴ two years later, and both were buried in Cambridge graveyard. In 1738 he removed to East Haddam, Conn., where he traded extensively in land, and became wealthy. He was commonly known as "Capt." Cleveland. His children were—

1. Aaron,⁴ b. in Woburn, Oct. 20, 1702; d. —, 1716.
2. Samuel,⁴ b. in Woburn, May 17, 1704.*
3. Abigail,⁴ b. in Medford, May 10, 1706.
4. John,⁴ bap. in Cambridge, Oct. 7, 1711; d. young.
5. Josiah,⁴ bap. in Cambridge, Nov. 1, 1713; m. Joanna Porter.
6. Aaron,⁴ (again), bap. in Cambridge, Oct. 29, 1715; m. Susannah Porter.
7. John,⁴ (again), bap. in Cambridge, July 18, 1717.
8. Moses,⁴ bap. in Cambridge, July 19, 1719.
9. Mary,⁴ bap. in Cambridge, July 7, 1724.

MOSES CLEVELAND,³ second son and fifth child of Aaron² and Dorcas (Wilson) Cleveland, b. in Woburn, Feb. 24, 1690, m. in Canterbury, Conn., Oct. 19, 1717, Mary Johnson, dau. of Obadiah Johnson, of Canterbury, and had, born in Canterbury—

* In Vol. XLIII, page 517, Registry of Deeds, [for Suffolk ?] under date of May 23, 1743, is a deed from "Samuel Cleveland," of Boston, mariner, in which he calls Aaron Cleveland his father.

1. Miriam,⁴ b. Jan. 30, 1718.
2. Dorcas,⁴ b. May 9, 1721.
3. Obadiah,⁴ b. Sept. 16, 1723.
4. Anna,⁴ b. Aug. 15, 1725.
5. Rebecca,⁴ b. June 28, 1730.

BENJAMIN CLEVELAND,³ third son and youngest child of Aaron² and Dorcas (Wilson) Cleveland, b. in Woburn, May 16, 1701, m. in Canterbury, Conn., Jan. 1, 1727, Anna Church, by whom he had—

1. Esther,⁴ b. in Canterbury, Nov. 5, 1727.
2. Aaron,⁴ b. in Canterbury, June 3, 1730.
3. Anna,⁴ b. in Canterbury, March 23, 1732.
4. Benjamin,⁴ b. in Windham, Aug. 30, 1733; m. Mary Elderkin.
5. Moses,⁴ b. in Windham, July 20, 1736; m. Tabitha Spencer.
6. Chloe,⁴ b. in Windham, May 30, 1744.

Anna, wife of Benj. Cleveland,³ d. Oct. 21, 1754.

AARON CLEVELAND,⁴ (Rev.), fifth son and sixth child of Aaron³ and Abigail (Waters) Cleveland, b. in Cambridge, Mass., and bap. there, Oct. 29, 1715, m. in Medford, Mass., Aug. 4, 1739, Susannah Porter, dau. of Rev. Aaron Porter, of Medford. She was b. in Medford, March 1, 1716. Having graduated at Harvard, 1735, he entered the Congregational ministry, and was settled over the Haddam (Conn.) people in 1739. Was dismissed in 1746, and in 1747 was installed over the South Church in Malden, Mass., but dismissed in 1750. He is next heard of at Halifax, Nova Scotia, whence he sailed for England; received holy orders in the Church of England, at London, 1755, and was commissioned, July 1, 1757, by the Society for Propagating the Gospel in Foreign Parts, to take charge of the Episcopal Church in New Castle, Pa., in compliance with the request of that parish. The following is an exact copy of the letter of the Society under whose auspices he was to settle at New Castle. It may be found in the church records at New Castle:

“Charter House, July 1, 1757.

“Good Gentlemen:

“The Society for the propagation of the Gospel in foreign parts, have granted your request, & appointed Mr. Cleveland their Missionary in your Church; but it is on this express condition, which is now a standing rule in all their missions, that you provide him with a good House and Glebe, & not less than twenty pounds sterling per annum towards his more comfortable support.

“Heartily recommending you & Mr. Cleveland to God’s Blessing,

I am, Sirs,
your very faithful
humble Servant,
PHILIP BEARCROFT.

“To the Church Wardens
& Vestry of the Episcopal Church of New Castle, in Pennsylvania.”

On his way to Boston to arrange for the conveyance of his family to New Castle, he stopped at the house of his old friend, Dr. Benjamin Franklin, in Philadelphia, was there taken sick and died, Aug. 11, 1757. His remains were buried in Christ Church, Philadelphia. A warm eulogium, written by Dr. Franklin, the editor, appeared in the obituary notice in the Pennsylvania Gazette, of Aug. 18, 1757. His widow d. in Salem, Mass., in 1788. His son, Rev. Aaron Cleveland,⁵ was the maternal grandfather of Rt. Rev. A. Cleveland Coxe,⁷ Bishop of the Diocese of Western New York, and of Hon. Wm. E. Dodge,⁷ of New York City. Why it is that none of the numerous and intelligent descendants of this branch of the Clevelands (called the Aaron branch) have ever attempted to compile a genealogical record, is unaccountable to the writer. Capt. Stephen Cleveland,⁵ an experienced seaman, who received his commission from the first President of the Continental Congress, also Richard Jeffrey Cleveland,⁶ author of "Cleveland's Voyages"—a very popular book in its day—were of this branch.

[For account of descendants of SAMUEL CLEVELAND,² see pages 5—8, and Appendix B.]

MIRIAM CLEVELAND,² the second daughter and fifth child of Moses¹ and Ann (Winn) Cleveland, b. in Woburn, Mass., July 10, 1659, m. in Charlestown, Mass., Dec. 13, 1683, Thomas Foskett, son of John and Elizabeth Foskett. All that is learned of this family would show that John Foskett, of Charleston, 1658, was a householder, 1678. Elizabeth, his wife, was admitted to the Church, April 6, 1673, and two weeks thereafter, April 20th, their children, six in number—John, Thomas, Joshua, Robert, Elizabeth, and Mary—were all baptized; son Jonathan, bap. Nov. 1, 1674, and dau. Abigail, June 6, 1680. The children of Thomas and Miriam² (Cleveland) Foskett, as appearing on the Woburn records, are three, namely :

1. Thomas,³ b. April 26, 1684; d. —.
2. Elizabeth,³ b. May 10, 1686.
3. John,³ b. May 8, 1688; d. July 11, 1689.

The date and place of death of Miriam,² or her husband, or anything further concerning the family, has not been ascertained.

EDWARD CLEVELAND,² the fourth son and seventh child of Moses¹ and Ann (Winn) Cleveland, b. in Woburn, Mass., May 20, 1663, m. for first wife, as the compiler thinks, (though unable to give place and date, or parentage with certainty), Deliverance Palmer, and at one time lived in Kingston, R. I., though about 1716 he purchased land in Canterbury, Conn. The deed states him to be "late of Kingstown, Rhode Island." While residing in Canterbury his wife died, as the records there show, June 7, 1717, and he m. second, in Canterbury, Jan. 1, 1722, Zeruah Church, who, so far as appears, bore him no children. It is concluded he returned to Rhode Island and died there, but date not learned.

Children, as far as found, were—

1. Edward,³ b. (probably) in 1689; m. Rebecca Paine.
2. Isaac,³ b. (probably) in 1691; m. Susannah Johnson.
3. Samuel,³ b. (probably) in 1693; m. Mary Darby.
4. Palmer,³ b. (probably) in 1695; m. Deborah —.

5. Mary,³ b. (probably) in 1697.

6. Elizabeth,³ b. (probably) in 1699; m. Jonathan Shepard.

But the order of birth is conjectural, in the absence of records.

EDWARD CLEVELAND,³ eldest son and child of Edward² and Deliverance (Palmer) Cleveland, b. about 1689, m. in Canterbury, Conn., April 17, 1716, Rebecca Paine, dau. of Elisha and Rebecca (Doane) Paine. She was b. about 1690-1. He d. Nov. 3, 1771; his widow d. Feb. —, 1784.

Children, b. in Canterbury :

1. Joanna,⁴ b. July 22, 1717.
2. Rebecca,⁴ b. March 16, 1719; m. Daniel Brown.
3. Solomon,⁴ b. June 1, 1720; m. Abigail Baker.
4. Palmer,⁴ b. Jan. 29, 1722.
5. Deliverance,⁴ b. March 10, 1723; m. Isaiah Baker.
6. Silas,⁴ b. March 28, 1726; m. Elizabeth Hyde.
7. Experience,⁴ b. Sept. 5, 1728.
8. Paine,⁴ b. Aug. 30, 1731.

Silas⁴ and Elizabeth (Hyde) Cleveland were grandparents to Ex-Gov. Chauncey Fitch Cleveland,⁶ of Hampton, Conn.

ISAAC CLEVELAND,³ son of Edward² and Deliverance (Palmer) Cleveland, m. in Canterbury, Conn., Nov. 20, 1721, Susannah Johnson, "daughter of Mary Stevens, formerly Johnson," as stated in the old Church records.

Children :

1. Johnson,⁴ b. Oct. 29, 1722.
2. Lemuel,⁴ b. Aug. 13, 1725.
3. Deliverance,⁴ b. April 2, 1729.
4. Mary,⁴ b. Jan. 10, 1731.
5. Betsey,⁴ b. June 11, 1733.
6. Isaac,⁴ b. May 13, 1735.

SAMUEL CLEVELAND,³ son of Edward² and Deliverance (Palmer) Cleveland, m. in Canterbury, Conn., Nov. —, 1724, Mary Darby, and he d. in Pomfret, Conn., June 11, 1762.

Children :

1. Phineas,⁴ b. in Canterbury, Oct. 19, 1727.
2. James,⁴ b. in Canterbury, July 3, 1730.
3. Curtis,⁴ b. in Pomfret, July 5, 1734.
4. Edward,⁴ b. in Pomfret, July 4, 1737.
5. Mary,⁴ b. in Pomfret, Dec. 4, 1740.
6. Abigail,⁴ b. in Pomfret, Aug. 7, 1746.

PALMER CLEVELAND,³ son of Edward² and Deliverance (Palmer) Cleveland, m. in Kingston, R. I., Deborah —, by whom he had—

1. John,⁴ b. July 12, —.
2. Deborah,⁴ b. Aug. 9, —.
3. Deliverance,⁴ b. May —, —.
4. Mercy,⁴ b. June —, —.
5. Palmer,⁴ b. Feb. 22, —.

The foregoing very unsatisfactory account is all that can be gleaned from the mutilated records of Kingston, R. I., concerning the family of Palmer Cleveland.³ James Butler Cleveland,⁸ of Oneonta, Otsego county, N. Y., is a great-great-grandson of Deliverance,⁴ and will no doubt be able in his large work to make it more perfect and intelligible:

JOSIAH CLEVELAND,² fifth son and eighth child of Moses¹ and Ann (Winn) Cleveland, b. in Woburn, Mass., Feb. 26, 1667, m. (probably) in 1689, or early in 1690, Mary —, and settled in the town of Chelmsford, with his brother, Samuel Cleveland.² From this fact, and that he followed this brother to Canterbury, Conn., the compiler is disposed to the opinion that he may have married a daughter of Richard and Elizabeth Hildreth, if they had a daughter Mary. There may be no significance in the names given by Samuel² and Josiah² to the first three children born to each, but it is worth noticing that the second son is Joseph³ in each case, and possibly named for his uncle Joseph Hildreth, of Chelmsford. Be this as it may, the numerous and intelligent descendants, now living, of Josiah Cleveland,² should no longer delay every effort possible to ascertain the maiden name of Mary, his wife.

The children, whose names are found on the Chelmsford and Canterbury records, are nine in number, besides a daughter Rachel, who, according to Hinman, m. Jonas Spaulding in 1722:

1. Josiah,³ b. in Chelmsford, Oct. 7, 1690.
2. Joseph,³ b. in Chelmsford, June 13, 1692.
3. Mary,³ b. in Chelmsford, March 17, 1694; m. Richard Adams.
4. John,³ b. in Chelmsford, June 28, 1696.
5. Jonathan,³ b. in Chelmsford, March 2, 1698; d. April 5, 1698.
6. Henry,³ b. in Chelmsford, Dec. 22, 1699.
7. Rachel,³ b. in —, (probably) in 1702; m. Jonas Spaulding.
8. Lydia,³ b. in Canterbury, Dec. 7, 1704.
9. Deliverance,³ b. in Canterbury, July 13, 1707.
10. Abiel,³ b. in Canterbury, Oct. 9, 1709.

The last child posthumous, as the father d. in Canterbury, April 26, 1709, aged 42 years.

JOSIAH CLEVELAND,³ eldest child of Josiah and Mary (—) Cleveland, b. in Chelmsford, Mass., Oct. 7, 1690, m. in Canterbury, Conn., Aug. 7, 1710, Abigail Paine, probably dau. of Elisha and Rebecca (Doane) Paine, and b. Jan. 5, 1688. He d. in Canterbury, Feb. 9, 1750, in the 60th year of his age.

Children, all b. in Canterbury:

1. Keziah,⁴ b. Nov. 26, 1711.
2. Josiah,⁴ b. April 4, 1713; m. Sarah Lawrence.
3. Abigail,⁴ b. June 3, 1715.
4. Elisha,⁴ b. Jan. 7, 1717; m. Esther Morse.
5. Lois,⁴ b. Dec. 11, 1718.
6. Mary,⁴ b. June 29, 1720.
7. John,⁴ (Rev.), b. April 12, 1722; m. Mary Dodge.
8. Lydia,⁴ b. Feb. 16, 1724; d. March 26, 1745.
9. Ebenezer,⁴ (Rev.), b. Dec. 25, 1725; m. Abigail Stevens.
10. Aaron,⁴ (Col.), b. Nov. 27, 1727; m. Thankful Paine.
11. Moses,⁴ b. April 18, 1730; d. Jan. 1, 1741.

GEN. MOSES CLEVELAND,⁵ was the second son of Col. Aaron⁴ and Thankful (Paine) Cleveland, and was b. in Canterbury, Jan. 29, 1754;

d. Nov. 16, 1806, aged 52. He was the agent of the Connecticut Land Company, and the city of Cleveland, Ohio, was named in honor of him.

CAPT. JOSEPH CLEVELAND,³ second child of Josiah² and Mary (—) Cleveland, b. in Chelmsford, Mass., June 13, 1692, m. first, in Canterbury, Conn., May 19, 1718, Deborah Butterfield. She d. Nov. 14, 1724, and he m. second, June 24, 1725, Mary Woodward, dau. of John Woodward, and d. May 12, 1752.

Children, by wife Deborah:

1. Jonas,⁴ b. Oct. 16, 1718; m. Prudence Phillips.
2. Sybil,⁴ b. Jan. 7, 1720; m. — Cady.
3. John,⁴ b. Dec. 31, 1721.

by wife Mary :

4. Deborah,⁴ b. Aug. 11, 1726; m. — Hubbard.
5. Bridget,⁴ b. Aug. 12, 1728; m. — Wedge.
6. Joseph,⁴ b. Jan. 19, 1730.
7. Mary,⁴ b. April 19, 1731; d. Nov. 8, 1736.
8. Hannah,⁴ b. Nov. 2, 1732; d. Nov. 5, 1736.
9. Abijah,⁴ b. (probably) in 1734; d. Nov. 3, 1736.
10. Rachel,⁴ b. March 3, 1736; d. Nov. 4, 1736.
11. Jonathan,⁴ b. Nov. 24, 1737.
12. Jesse,⁴ b. Oct. 20, 1739.
13. Mary,⁴ b. Aug. 5, 1742; d. Aug. 21, 1742.

It will be noticed the parents buried four children within five days of each other.

REUBEN CLEVELAND,⁶ of Chicago, is a grandson of Jesse.⁴

HENRY CLEVELAND,³ son of Josiah² and Mary (—) Cleveland, b. in Chelmsford, Mass., Dec. 22, 1699, m. in Canterbury, Conn., in 1718, Lucy Fitch, dau. of Maj. James Fitch, by whom he had—

1. William,⁴ b. July 7, 1719.
2. Nehemiah,⁴ b. July 30, 1721.
3. Lucy,⁴ b. March 2, 1724.
4. Jabez,⁴ b. Nov. 4, 1727; d. Nov. 13, 1736.

With probably other children not recorded, as there was a Jabez⁴ (again) b. about 1738.

ISAAC CLEVELAND,² sixth son and ninth child of Moses¹ and Ann (Winn) Cleveland, b. in Woburn, Mass., May 11, 1669, m. in Charlestown, Mass., July 17, 1699, Elizabeth Curtice (or Curtis), by whom he had—

1. Curtice,³ b. Jan. 23, 1701.
2. Anne,³ b. June 6, 1703; m. Phillip Spaulding.
3. Miriam,³ b. July 4, 1705; m. Adam Cramer.
4. Keziah,³ b. Oct. 24, 1709; m. Sylvanus Jones.

CURTICE CLEVELAND,³ eldest child of Isaac² and Elizabeth (Curtice) Cleveland, b. Jan. 23, 1701, m. in Norwich, Conn., Jan. 16, 1734, Remembrance Currier, and had children—

1. Gideon,⁴ b. March 5, 1735; d. Jan. 23, 1742.
2. Joanna,⁴ b. Oct. 22, 1737.
3. Isaac,⁴ b. Aug. 14, 1739; d. Oct. 17, 1739.
4. Isaac,⁴ (again), b. Jan. 11, 1741.

5. Gideon,⁴ (again), b. July 6, 1743.

JOANNA CLEVELAND,² youngest daughter and tenth child of Moses¹ and Ann (Winn) Cleveland, b. in Woburn, Mass., April 5, 1670, m. in Chelmsford, Mass., May 28, 1690, Joseph Keyes, a brother, probably, of her brother Samuel's first wife.

Children, both born in Chelmsford:

1. Joanna,³ b. Feb. 10, 1695.
 2. Joseph,³ b. May 1, 1698.

ENOCH CLEVELAND,² youngest son and child of Moses¹ and Ann (Winn) Cleveland, b. in Woburn, Mass., Aug 1, 1671, m. first, in Charlestown, Mass., Elizabeth Counts, dau. probably, of Edward and Sarah (Adams) Counts. He was a tailor by occupation; lived successively in Charlestown, Sudbury, Framingham, and Concord, (Mass.), and d. in the latter place, Aug. 1, 1729. His second wife, whom he m. in Marlboro', Mass., July 9, 1719, was Elizabeth Wright, of Concord, Mass.

Children by first wife, born in Sudbury, were—

1. Sarah,³ b. May 26, 1701.
2. Enoch,³ b. July 2, 1703.
3. James,³ b. Oct. 31, 1706.
4. Jonathan,³ b. March —, 1708.

No births of children born to him are found on records of other towns where he resided.

ENOCH CLEVELAND,³ son of Enoch² and Elizabeth (Counts) Cleveland, b. in Sudbury, Mass., July 2, 1703, by wife Sarah had the following children, born in Berwick:

1. Jonathan,⁴ b. June 7, 1726.
2. Enoch,⁴ b. May 26, 1728; d. Feb. 28, 1730.
3. Enoch,⁴ (again), b. Aug. 31, 1732. Had family by wife Deborah Fassett, in Pomfret and Canterbury, Conn. C. C. Ward, Esq., of Castleton, Vt., is a great-grandson of Enoch.⁴

JONATHAN CLEVELAND,³ son of Enoch² and Elizabeth (Counts) Cleveland, b. in Sudbury, Mass., March —, 1708, m. first, in Concord, Mass., Sept. 29, 1736, Lydia Lamson. 5. Persis,⁴ b. Aug. 5, 1749.

OLIVER CLEVELAND,⁴ who m. Azubah Smith, (a sister of James Smith, a distinguished soldier of the Revolutionary war), and settled in Hampton, Washington county, N. Y., is of this branch of Enoch Cleveland,² as also Solomon Cleveland,⁵ of Fair Haven, Vt., whose wife was Martha Rathbone. But parties interested are referred to the complete Genealogy of the Clevelands, to be issued in due time by James Butler Cleveland, Esq., formerly of Washington, D. C., but now of Oneonta, Otsego county, N. Y.

6. Isaac, b. July —, 1663; m. Elizabeth —.

Besides Abigail, who m. Moses Parker, of Chelmsford. The father d. in Chelmsford, in 1688, aged 83, according to the gravestone erected to his memory.

Richard Hildreth, the Historian, is a lineal descendant of Richard and Elizabeth Hildreth, of Chelmsford, tracing to Joseph and Abigail (Wilson) Hildreth as above.

The place of the birth of Persis, wife of Samuel Cleveland,² is erroneously given on page 6. It is there stated she was a native of Cambridge, Mass. For "Cambridge" read Chelmsford.

Nothing concerning Persis,³ eldest child of Samuel² and Persis (Hildreth) Cleveland, has been learned. The Canterbury records are barren of information about her, and she may have died unmarried.

Samuel,³ son of Samuel² and Persis (Hildreth) Cleveland, m. in Canterbury, Conn., Dec. 10, 1719, Sarah Boswell, dau. of Robert Boswell, Esq., of Canterbury. He d. in Canterbury, Oct. 1, 1727. His widow m., Dec. 19, 1731, John Proctor, of Canterbury.

2. Franklin,⁵ b. Aug. 13, 1779.

C.

Concerning ELIJAH CLEVELAND,⁴ the sixth child of Joseph³ and Abigail (Hyde) Cleveland, the compiler gives the following brief account, having recently found and traced his descendants. His wife was Alice Lawrence, but of her birth and parentage there is nothing yet ascertained, except that she was born about the year 1730. They were married about the year 1748, and settled in Columbia county, N. Y. A correspondent in Hillsdale furnishes me with a copy of the inscriptions upon their tombstones, in the old burying-ground there, as follows:

"In memory of Mr. Elijah Cleveland, who departed this life Sept. 28, 1794, in the 74th year of his age."

"In memory of Mrs. Alice, wife of Mr. Elijah Cleveland, who died June 12, 1799, in her 69th year."

They had a family of nine children at least, but the order of births can not be given with certainty, as the exact dates of the births of three only have been obtained.

1. Joseph,⁵ b. about 1749; m. Elizabeth Fenton.
2. Lucinda,⁵ b. about 1751; m. Henry Dibble.
3. Asa,⁵ b. about 1753; m. Mary Dibble.
4. John,⁵ b. about 1756; m. Elizabeth Searien.
5. Abigail,⁵ b. Feb. 21, 1758; m. first, Thomas Bathrick—second, Peter Smith.
6. Daniel,⁵ b. about 1760; m. Amy Dibble.
7. Sarah,⁵ b. Jan. 16, 1763; m. Andrew Reynolds.
8. Waitstill,⁵ b. Oct. 22, 1764; m. Martha Tabor.
9. Amy,⁵ b. about 1767; m. Henry Salisbury.

JOSEPH H. CLEVELAND,⁷ of Chicago, is a grandson of Joseph.⁵

EZRA CLEVELAND,⁴ son of Joseph³ and Sarah (Ensworth) Cleveland, m. in 1747, Jerusha Newcomb, dau. of Hezekiah and Jerusha (Bradford) Newcomb. She was b. March 24, 1726. In 1772 they were "late of Tolland, Conn., now of Worthing, Mass." They had b. to them in Canterbury, Conn.:

1. Ezra,⁵ b. June 22, 1748; settled in Burlington, Conn.
2. Tyxhall,⁵ b. April 26, 1750; settled in Hanover, N. H.
3. Thomas,⁵ b. March 25, 1752.
4. Sarah,⁵ b. Oct. 29, 1754.
5. Newcomb,⁵ b. Nov. 6, 1756; settled in Mass.
6. Jerusha,⁵ b. Aug. 31, 1758.
7. Asenath,⁵ b. May 16, 1763.
8. Zeruah,⁵ b. March 6, 1765.
9. Dorothy,⁵ b. Sept. 14, 1767.

SAMUEL CLEVELAND,⁴ son of Joseph³ and Sarah (Ensworth) Cleveland, m. first, in Canterbury, Conn., May 7, 1751, Ruth Darby. His second wife was Anna Welch.

Children, by wife Ruth:

1. Joseph,⁵ b. Feb. 7, 1752; m. —, and settled in "the West."
2. Mary,⁵ b. Feb. 12, 1754; m. Silas Allen.
3. Jedediah,⁵ b. May 8, 1756; m. Betsey Cleveland.
4. Abigail,⁵ b. Aug. 6, 1758; m. Elder John Hibbard.
5. Zeruah,⁵ b. Feb. 19, 1761; d. Oct. 25, 1766.
6. Samuel,⁵ b. Aug. 7, 1763; m. Martha Hibbard.
7. William Darby,⁵ b. Feb. 8, 1766; m. Phebe Abbott.
8. Arunah,⁵ b. March 21, 1768; d. Aug. 17, 1773.
9. Chester,⁵ b. March 28, 1771; m. Mary Hibbard.
10. Sylvester,⁵ b. Aug. 22, 1778; m. Relief Converse.

Mrs. Susan Eaton,⁶ nee Cleveland, daughter to Samuel,⁵ can give a very complete account of this branch, several of whom settled in Lower Canada, Province of Quebec. She was b. Nov. 16, 1792; res. East Randolph, Vt.

The compiler regrets his inability to present further information of interest concerning BENJAMIN CLEVELAND,⁴ and Rachel his wife, but certainly there has been no lack of zeal in his endeavors to obtain it. He has examined carefully the Probate records in the hope that something might be found to determine the maiden name of the said Rachel. As no will of Joseph Cleveland³ (son of Samuel²) appears on those records, the conclusion is that he died intestate. No grandchild or great-grandchild of Rachel is found bearing her full maiden name, as in the case of Elizabeth Perkins Hibbard,⁷ youngest child of Elizabeth Hovey,⁶ (see page 16), who was named for the mother of Rev. Samuel Hovey. Such partiality in selection of names among the Hoveys may perhaps be excused, but among the Clevelands in the direct line of descent from Benjamin,⁴ such neglect to perpetuate an honorable name in our ancestry is utterly indefensible—from a genealogical standpoint at least.

It has been intimated to the writer that she was of Welsh extraction, but this seems only a traditionary conjecture. Two excellent though credulous persons, among the multitude of her great-grandchildren, one in New York State and the other in Ohio, and who are wont to consult spiritual mediums for answers to vexed questions, confidently advised him, over a year ago, that the mystery concerning her was solved; and, better than all, “the source of the information was unquestionably reliable.” But the truth must be told, notwithstanding it may show that the most reliable mediums are liable, like doctors, to disagree. Through one she declared most positively that her name was “Rachel Norton,” a native of Glasgow, Scotland; and through the other, with equal certainty, that it was “Rachel Craig,” nativity not given. So the mystery became more mysterious if possible than ever, and “clouds and darkness rest upon it.”

On page 60, Vol. VII, of the Canterbury (Conn.) Land Records, may be found the following Deed:

“To all Christian people to whom these presents shall come—

“Know ye, that I, Benjamin Cleaveland, of Canterbury, in the County of Windham, in the Colony of Connecticut in New England, for divers good causes and considerations moving, have remised, relieved, and forever quited claim, and by these presents for me and my Heirs doth fully, clearly and absolutely Remise, Release, and forever quit elaim unto Jonathan Downing, Sen^r., of Canterbury, in the County of Windham, and Colony afores^d, in his full and peaceable possession & Treasure and to his heirs and assigns forever, all such right, Title, Interest and Demand whatsoever he the s^d had or ought to have in or to a sartain Brook which runs through the west end of the s^d Cleaveland's Land. To Have and to Hold all the said premises, &c., unto him the said Downing, his heirs and assigns, for the whole term of nine hundred and ninety years. As witness my hand this the Sixteenth Day of August, A. D. 1751.

BENJAMIN CLEVELAND. [SEAL.]

“Signed, sealed and delivered in presents of SAUMEL STEVENS.

her

RACHEL X CLEVELAND.

mark.

“Received this January the 8th Day, 1751, [1752?], and the same truly recorded.

Attest:

STEPHEN FROST.”

Whether the wife of Benjamin Cleveland was incapable of writing her signature at all, or whether her agitation in relinquishing her joint right, “in or to a sartain Brook which runs through the west end of the s^d Cleaveland’s Land,” rendered her unable to do so, is not manifest. Indeed it now matters not. Over a century and a quarter has passed since that Deed was delivered to Jonathan Downing, Sen., and centuries may come and go, till that “whole term of nine hundred and ninety years” expires. What then? “The Brook” will still run its course supplied by the never failing springs of the hills of Windham county—white-clad with the glistening snows of winter, or green-robed with the glorious verdure of each returning summer. Children will play upon its banks and bathe their bare feet in its limpid, sparkling waters, as did of yore the little ones of Benjamin and Rachel Cleveland. Will there be sorrow again like that which filled the hearts and darkened the home of this young couple, when, within a fortnight during that dreary month of November, in the year of grace 1749, three of their five children sickened and died, and were buried side by side in three little graves for violets to grow upon when the spring-tide came—“Joe” and “Bennie” and “Dollie”—leaving only little “Nabby” and baby Zenas—he whose crippled manhood in after years was evidently one continued and heroic struggle with adversity? The father may be pictured to us sad and sedate, with his eyes fixedly gazing out of the window, while the sweeping gusts of early winter rattle the casements, and break and scatter the ice-mailed branches of the trees around the little yard of his “broken home.” With Puritan fortitude he endeavors, though vainly, to keep back the tears that silently steal down his cheeks, while he speaks to the sobbing wife and mother,—crushed with their great grief, and worn and weary with watching and vigils by the bedsides of her darlings,—the well remembered words of Holy Writ, “The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away—blessed be the name of the Lord.” There is no answer save a low moan and a fresh outburst of tears. Another Rachel indeed, mourning her first born children and refusing to be comforted. Will this all happen there again? God knows. And, reader, if it so happen, will consolation to the bereaved and sorrowing ones come to their bleeding hearts from words preserved from the flippant utterances of an Ingersoll, or rather from the precious promises to those that mourn, recorded in that Book he now scoffs at and derides?

But the spring time followed, and while the birds were carolling its return, another daughter was born and christened for her mother, Rachel. Within two years more, still another daughter gladdened the household, with the name of her great-grandmother, Persis. Two and a half years later, another son was born, and called Rufus. Was he, or his elder brother Zenas, named for the father or grandfather of the mother that bore them? Next a daughter Mary, who died in mid-winter, and was laid by the side of her little brothers and sister before attaining her seventh year; and lastly, Phebe, who grew to womanhood, married Ephraim Pearson, and waited and watched in vain for his return from sea, seven long years, with her family of four little ones, in their home in Manchester, Vermont. Was the name of the mother of Rachel, wife of Benj. Cleveland, Mary, and grandmother Phebe?

Abigail, or "Nabby" Cleveland, was in her sixteenth year when little Mary, her sister, died, and was already engaged to young "Sam" Hovey, the son of a farmer living hard by in the adjoining town of Windham. Her musical talent was the wonder and delight of the neighborhood, and her husband in after years used to say he had often heard her voice, while singing of a clear evening out of doors, a mile and a half away. Perhaps the hearing of the young lover was very acute at that particular period of his life. They were married in the autumn following the death of little Mary, and began the stormy voyage of life together in Windham, Conn., to peacefully close it among the green hills of Orange county, Vermont.

Efforts to obtain the exact date of the death of Benjamin Cleveland and his wife have proved futile. It is stated, however, that "grandma Cleveland" died when Rebecca Hovey⁶ was twenty years old, and "grandpa Cleveland" lived five years after her death. So it may be seen, according to this statement, that Rachel, wife of Benj. Cleveland, d. in Lyme, N. H., in 1792, and he d. in East Brookfield, Vt., in 1797. The compiler is sorry to state he can find no stone in the old burying grounds of either town to mark the respective places of burial. Perhaps I ought to say in this connection, that the old burial place, where the dust of the first settlers of Lyme, N. H., reposes, thickly covered (as it was when the writer visited the spot in 1876,) with underbrush and half-grown trees, with here and there a broken headstone, is simply a disgrace to the authorities of the town. Even the Aborigines exhibited more care and respect for the burial place of their dead, than the Anglo-Saxons who are now in possession of the soil.

[The following letter from Rev. Geo. L. Hovey, concerning the family of Daniel,⁶ the eldest child of Rev. Samuel and Abigail (Cleveland) Hovey, can not prove uninteresting, and is inserted entire:]

"BRICKSBURG, July 25, 1877.

"H. G. CLEVELAND, ESQ.:

"We think as you have done so much you ought to be helped as much as is in our power to do, though that is little. As to my father's children all I can do for you is as follows—(I will not repeat dates of births and deaths, as you have them already):

1. Beulah, died unmarried, aged 27.
2. Daniel. I can only urge George or Maria to write for you the account of his marriage and the births and deaths of his three children. There are no grandchildren, and Luther died unmarried.
3. Mary, died unmarried, in Lyme, N. H.
4. Abigail. I will write to Harriet or Elizabeth for the account of this family.

5. Sarah. Have sent to her daughters to write you.
6. Samuel Sylvanus, died in Lyme, while preparing for college, unmarried.
7. Elizabeth P., died unmarried. Was a very successful teacher for many years, in Mansfield, Ohio, and Middletown, Conn., and in the Blind Asylum at South Boston.
8. Rhoda Lord. You have this account.
9. Josiah Fairfield, died in infancy.
10. George Lewis, born Aug. 20, 1810 (not 1809).

"It seemed foreordained that I should stay at home and take care of my parents, my only surviving brother having commenced the study of medicine the year that I was born. In 1831, I joined the Congregational Church in Lyme, N.H., and in 1832 the claims of the West began to press upon the Eastern churches, calling for their young people to go there as teachers and preachers. I had already felt a desire to become a minister, and had commenced study at Thetford Academy, Vt. In 1833, the Rev. J. J. Shipherd came from the West, and unfolded his plan for a colony and a college at Oberlin, Ohio. Many of the best members of our churches went thither as colonists, and I decided to go there to pursue my studies, leaving my sister Rhoda to bring home her husband, a young farmer, to take my place in caring for my parents. Reaching Oberlin in the autumn of 1833, I found it a small settlement composed of a dozen log houses and one frame building, in a dense forest, some six miles from any town. In 1836, I was married to the friend of my childhood, Miss Sarah G. Nelson, who had removed with her friends to that place, and to whom I had been several years engaged. In 1837, while a member of the Theological class, I was licensed to preach, by the Loraine County Association; and in 1838, ordained by the same body as a missionary. In Nov., 1839, in company with several others, myself and wife went as missionaries to the emancipated negroes in the island of Jamaica, W. I. We were not sent by any society, but looked for our support to the people to whom we ministered. On the 1st of Feb. following my wife died, and in July, 1842, I returned to this country, worn out with my labors in that climate, but hoping, after a season of rest, to be able to resume my work among that people to whom I had become greatly attached. But for the next four years, I was able to do but little except occasionally to present the case of those people to the churches and to individuals. In 1846, I received an appointment from the Am. Miss. Association to raise $6,000 for the Jamaica Mission. In the autumn of 1847, I became an Agent of the Foreign Evangelical Society in connection with Drs. Baird, Kirk and others, having my office in Boston. In 1849, Feb. 6, I married Miss Anna M. Sibley, of Providence, R. I., who died April 2nd, 1865. In May, 1850, the Foreign Evangelical Society united with the American Protestant Society and the Christian Alliance, under the name of the American and Foreign Christian Union. From that time till the autumn of 1871, I remained with the Society as its Agent or District Secretary for New England, though in 1851 I spent six months in Europe, and at two different times made extensive tours through the South in the interests of the Society. Since the autumn of 1871, when I came to Bricksburg, N. J., my health has prevented me from occupying continuously any post of arduous labor, but I have for a time acted as Agent for Lincoln University, and am at present Financial Agent of Am. and For. Christian Union, with special reference to raising money for its Evangelical work in France. In 1867, Aug. 8, I married Miss Olivia C. Marcy, of Providence, R. I., who acts as my confidential clerk or private secretary, else you could have got nothing out of me except by word of mouth, for I do not even write out my sermons, much less a letter the length of this, as my head has always been too troublesome to allow of it.

"You ask for a sketch of my father. I can only say I could easier write his biography than a sketch that would do him justice. Near the close of the Revolutionary war his father was drafted into the army, and he though but seventeen years of age was accepted as his substitute. While acting as a scout he was taken prisoner near Lake Champlain, and carried to Quebec, Canada. Being in prison with an Englishman of education, who took pleasure in teaching him arithmetic and surveying, a thirst for learning more was awakened, and on his return home, at the close of the war, he commenced studying with Rev. Dr. Burton, Thetford, Vt., with a view to entering Dartmouth College. This was prevented by the failure of his health, and he was employed by Government in surveying the new townships of Northern Vermont. Another benefit of his soldier life and what appeared the misfortune of imprisonment, was his receipt of a pension for life, which was continued to his widow after him. He was passionately fond of the business of surveying, and his apology for not writing me on his 80th birthday was that he was out surveying. His sight, which had failed for years, had become strong again, and his hair retained its color, and though three miles from church, he often preferred walking to riding, for the sake of the exercise. Though settled upon a farm, he was engaged in teaching during the winter for twenty-five years, till most of his children had received their common school education. He usually held one or more town offices, and often assisted in the settlement of the estates of his neighbors and friends. Though too doubtful of his own religious state to join the church till late in life, he was eminently a religious man, always maintaining prayers in his family and in his school. He was the first Sunday School Superintendent I ever knew, and among the first in New Hampshire; and continued his connection with the S. S. either as Supt. or teacher as long as he lived. His love for children increased with his years, and he was greatly beloved by them in return. Though a moderate drinker, as to the use of ardent spirits so universal in his day, he was one of the first to place himself under the banner of total abstinence, giving up for the sake of others what he conceived to be the real advantages of a restricted use of such stimulants. In fine, he was a good man, and a just, and his memory is precious. He was the most honest, unselfish man I ever knew. If he erred at all, it was in loving his neighbor better than himself—(a characteristic which has descended to some of his children. Mrs. H.)

"I fear you find it hard work to get the matter you want for your book, but hope others have been more satisfactory people to inquire of than you have found me. If my nieces do not respond, I will try again, but I have directed them to write to your address as the shortest and most direct way for you to get the information you wish for.

"As to my maternal ancestors, I never was acquainted with them and could not say much in regard to them. I only remember going to my grandfather's funeral when I was four years old, and that when reproved by my sister for not crying, I said, "I can't, because I have not any pocket handkerchief." My grandmother lived to a great age. Most of their descendants went to the West, and are unknown to fame and me.

"This is all I can do at this time.

"With kind regards, yours,

"GEORGE LEWIS HOVEY."

(By Mrs. HOVEY.)

Another sketch of Daniel Hovey,⁶ from the pen of his niece, Mrs. Ruth Hovey Sprague,⁷ is here inserted, and will be no less interesting than the preceding one by his son.

"Daniel, eldest son of elder Samuel and Abigail (Cleveland) Hovey, was born in Canterbury, Conn., July 24th, 1764. In his childhood or early youth his parents removed to the town of Lyme, N. H.

"On the 16th of October, 1781, he, with four others, were sent on a scout from a fort in Corinth and were fired upon in the town of Jericho by a party of sixteen Tories, some of whom were acquainted with, and had partaken of the hospitality of the family. One member of the scouting party was mortally wounded and died the next day. The scouts jumped into some high brakes and thick bushes, and hid themselves. Four of them were soon discovered, and three being asked in turn how many there were, answered "four"; when the fourth one was asked, being a very honest fellow, he answered "five." Thereupon search was made for the fifth, and Daniel was discovered. On being ordered he at once gave up his arms, but he told me that for awhile he trembled excessively. He said, "One said on hearing my account 'I would not have given up my gun'; another, 'I would not have come from my cover'; but none of them know what they would have done." The leader of the tories shook him by the hand, inquired after the health of his father, and said if he had him there he would treat him. It appeared this tory was supposed to be a patriot, and had been told of the contemplated expedition of the scouts.

"The four scouts were taken to Quebec and imprisoned; Daniel being confined in the same cell with an elderly prisoner of good education, who had been for some years a teacher. They sold a part of their allowance of food, and bought paper and a few books, and at this seminary the ready scholar acquired a considerable part of his education. They were permitted to exercise occasionally in making pickets under a guard, outside the prison walls. A charitable lady occasionally sent them a welcome present of some nice little dish as an addition to their prison fare. After a captivity of eleven months, his father received intelligence that an exchange of prisoners had been made, and that the son was liberated. He went a day's journey to meet his footsore son, lent him the horse, and walked home by his side.

"After the close of the war our scout married Beulah Pingree, a highly accomplished and very beautiful young lady, and settled on the banks of the Connecticut, in the town of Lyme, Grant's island being a part of his farm. In addition to his farming business, he taught in the district schools of the town more than twenty winters; filled nearly all offices of honor and trust; was active in establishing a circulating library; was often chosen to settle differences among his neighbors and townsmen; never had a lawsuit, and was "Uncle Daniel" to all, young or old, of his acquaintance.

"Having for many years received from a grateful Government a pension for the patriotic services of his youth, and having lived to a good old age and seen his six children useful, beloved and respected, the dear old saint departed to that rest that remaineth to the people of God.

"In stature he was short, had dark brown hair and blue eyes; was very unassuming in his appearance, and in his countenance and manner of speaking resembled his mother more than any other of his children I ever knew. In his will he bequeathed a Bible to each of his grandchildren and one to his grand-nephew, D. H. Sprague, my younger son. (Deceased.)

"His elder son, Daniel, became a practicing physician in Lyme for many years, having been educated at Dartmouth College.

"The younger son, his youngest child, became a minister of the gospel, and at one time was a missionary in the West Indies, subsequently laboring in the southern New England States.

"His four daughters were highly intelligent, accomplished and beautiful women, one of whom, Elizabeth, was, I think, the most engaging lady whose acquaintance and friendship I ever enjoyed. She devoted several years of her life to teaching in New Hampshire; in Vermont, where I had the good fortune to be favored by her instruction; and in Ohio, where she passed five years in teaching in several schools and academies.

"But excepting the youngest son and daughter they are all 'Beyond the river.' Peace to their ashes. I loved them well."

It is said that Daniel Hovey⁶ left among his papers a full and carefully prepared account of his ancestry (Hoveys and Clevelands), but strangely enough no one now seems to know what became of the document after his decease. The following inscription upon his monument in the cemetery at Lyme, N. H., was prepared in accordance with his wish:

"Daniel Hovey, born in Windham, Conn., July 24, 1764, married Beulah Pingree, of Hanover, Feb. 18, 1789—by whom he had four sons and six daughters. Died March 2, 1850, aged 86."

"THE LATE MAJOR RICHARD S. LORD.

"Eds. Com.—Major Richard S. Lord, who died in Bellefontaine, Ohio, on the 15th inst., deserves more than a passing notice. He was one of those working soldiers, who, having no 'friend at court,' had to depend upon his own resources, and stand upon his own merits in his conflict with the world, and he did it well.

"Graduating at West Point creditably, he soon entered the cavalry arm of the service, for which he had a decided preference. Stationed for several years in New Mexico and Arizona, he was still in the far West when the civil war broke out. His record as a soldier is most honorable; he participated in the following, amongst other conflicts, and in all those enumerated he was in command of his regiment—the 1st United States Cavalry: Val Verde, New Mexico, February 21, 1862; Apache Rancho, March 8, 1862; Stoneman's raid against Richmond, April and May, 1863; Beverly Ford, Virginia, June 9, 1863; Aldie, June 18, 1863; Middleburgh, June 19, 1863; Upperville, June 21, 1863; Gettysburg, July 1 to 3, 1863; Williamsport, Virginia, July 6, 1863; Boonsborough, July 7 and 8, 1863; Funktown, July 9, 1863; Dinwiddie Court House, March 30 and 31, 1865; Five Forks, April 1, 1865; Sutherland Station, April 2, 1865; Bevil's Bridge, April 3, 1865; Deaconsville, the same day.

"In all of these engagements Major Lord shone as a brave and skillful officer. He was painfully wounded at the battle of Funktown, and his conduct at the battle of Five Forks was the theme of the public commendation in all the newspapers of the land, at the period when it was fought, and called out the special and personal approval of Major General Sheridan, and was the occasion of his receiving brevet promotion.

"After the surrender of General Lee, the First Cavalry was detailed as the escort of General Sheridan, Major Lord commanding. Upon this duty he continued until ordered to California with his regiment, last winter.

"Major Lord was high minded and most honorable in all his instincts. Knowing that 'thrift follows fawning,' he refused to humiliate himself to attain position. He was always of the opinion that the high honor which only can give self-respect, is the brightest gem that adorns the escutcheon of a soldier. Like all brave men he was tender hearted and abhorred cruelty; and he never forgot while in the line of his duty as a soldier, what was due to humanity.

"His last illness was lingering and painful in the extreme; but he bore the bodily and mental anguish of consumption with calm courage and patient resignation. He was yet young, and had many ties that it was hard to sever. But throughout all, his voice was the most cheerful of any in his room; and long after he knew the moorings of life were irrecoverably lost, and he was drifting out from sight and from sound, thus feeling and thus speaking, he entered, unappalled, the impenetrable mist.

"He died a Christian. Leaving behind him his companions in arms, with many a longing, lingering look, he enlisted in a better and higher service, and became, as he himself expressed it, a soldier of the Cross.

"Surely such a man deserves well of his country, and the tear of gratitude and affection, and the poor compliment of a public notice of his deeds and memory, but illy repay a life of toil and devotion to the interests of his country.

W."

Under date of June 4, 1879, Rev. Horace N. Hovey closes a letter addressed to the compiler of this work, as follows:

"As to myself I hardly know what to write, or what I wrote in my former letter. For some eight years after marriage I was a farmer in the town of Albany, Vt. Commenced in the ministry in 1842. In the spring of 1843 left the farm and removed to the village, in Albany, and entered upon the work of the ministry, and had the charge of the church most of the time until the fall of 1866. In that time I had the pastoral charge of the church in Newport for eight years—in Irasburgh for three years—preaching at these places one-half the time and at Albany the other half. In July, 1876, I removed my family to Lowell, Vt., my present residence, having had the charge of the small Baptist Church here for nearly three years. Since July, 1876, my labors have continued here unbroken, except the time for rest on a journey to visit friends in Illinois, and some three months in the summer of 1874, to visit my daughter in River Falls, Wis.

"I shall be highly gratified to receive any sheets of your forthcoming volume, and as highly pleased to render any service you may wish in my power. Mail time has come, and I close in haste.

Your cousin truly,

HORACE NELSON HOVEY."

Mrs. Ruth Hovey Sprague, of East Brookfield, Vt., furnishes the following sketch of this family:

"Rufus Cleveland Hovey, fourth child of Elder Samuel and Abigail (Cleveland) Hovey, was born A. D. 1770, and married Grace Billings, with whom he resided in the town of Brookfield, Vt., where he died at the age of 46, leaving a widow with nine children, the youngest being an infant daughter. His eldest son, Billings, assumed the care of the family, honoring his father by his affectionate care of his mother, brothers and sisters. To see Billings bring his infant sister to the Sabbath services, and place her tenderly in the mother's arms, was pleasant; and a gratified smile, chased by a tear, would pass round the circle, seated on those same long benches.

"But two years after the death of the father, both mother and infant fell victims to the same fever that was fatal to the husband and father. Billings in the meantime had married a worthy lady, Miss Polly Kendall, and brought her into the family. She remarked, after the death of the mother, that if she was ever to marry Billings she married him at the right time, for she had learned how to manage the family.

"In the family were two young men, Orange and Silas; besides Rhoda, Simeon, Asahel, Laura and Horace; these five having for guardians their uncles, Samuel and Alvan, who resided within a quarter of a mile on either side. This large family, in addition to their own children, Billings and Polly cared for and educated to the satisfaction of both guardians and wards.

"At this time Billings was not a professor of religion, but his wife was a pious lady. There being great interest felt in the community on the subject of religion, evening meetings were frequently held, and 'Polly,' being very anxious for her husband, had arranged with a younger member of the family to stay at home and care for the children, that Billings might accompany her on this evening to a meeting at Uncle Samuel's. This, Billings declined, and she went without him, praying as she went. After she had gone, Billings concluded to go privately, as it was now dark. He and Uncle Samuel's son, Willis, who had also absented himself from the meetings, crept silently into an adjoining room to listen to the exercises. Now, there were among the praying brethren, two, viz., Uncle Samuel, and Deacon Edward Sprague, who were especially gifted in prayer—(an eccentric person said, 'When they pray, how the blessings shell down,')—and on this evening their petitions seemed more solemn and weighty than usual. Before their prayers were finished, behold! the door opened; Billings and Willis walked into the room, fell on their knees, acknowledged their sins, begged for and obtained pardon. Billings retired for the night, and I have heard him say he heard a sound like a heavy stone falling and rolling across the room; and these words, 'Whoso falleth on this stone shall be broken, but on whomsoever it shall fall, it shall grind him to powder.' To all human appearance, perhaps few have lived a more Christian life.

"His brothers and sisters coming to maturity, he sold the farm which had been his father's, divided to each child his patrimony, removed fifty miles north to the town of Albany, where land was cheap, and made himself a new home. To this place his brothers and one sister gathered, and with his own sons made a new 'Hovey neighborhood.' There, his death occurred many years after, and the news passed in Brookfield, 'Good brother Billings has gone.' His aged widow still resides among her children in Albany.

"Of Uncle Rufus I can say little. All I remember of him is attending his funeral. My mother was much attached to him, and often spoke of him very affectionately. His youngest son has been a minister of the Gospel, and has preached in Lowell, Vt., many years.

"Another item or two of Uncle Daniel: His grandson, Sylvanus Hibbard, tells me that when he was surveying the towns in the eastern part of the State, he lost his knife, and, having his pen to mend, he mended it with his hatchet. At one time he walked from his home in Lyme to Brookfield, to visit his father's family, on the frozen snow crust, in company with another man. It could not have been less than twenty-eight or thirty miles—a good day's work.

"I know scarcely anything of Uncle Abner. Probably you have received his history from Mrs. Woodworth.
R. H. SPRAGUE."

Harvey Horton Hollister, son of Jesse and Annie (Horton) Hollister. He was b. in Vermont, March 17, 1806; a shoemaker by trade, but followed the Lakes during the season of navigation, and at one time commanded the "Louisa Jenkins." His parents came to Ohio in 1815. He d. of cholera at his home in Vermillion, Ohio, Aug. 20, 1834, after an illness of ten hours. She m. second, in Oxford, Ohio, July 5, 1835, Rev. Oliver Atwood, son of James and Elizabeth (McAllister) Atwood. He was b. in Vermont, —, 1808; a Methodist minister, whose missionary zeal prompted him to remove, in July, 1837, to the territory of Iowa, to make a home for his family and act as local preacher in that portion of the far West. In the latter part of the month of August, 1838, he left home with the expectation of being absent about four weeks, his objective point being some forty miles distant. Not returning at the expiration of the time specified, his wife and friends became alarmed about him, and, on making inquiries, found that he had been at the Indian village (now Iowa City) some ten days before on his way home, and had purchased at the store there articles for the use of his family. Upon this intelligence, the neighbors turned out en masse, to search for him, the place where he was last seen alive being about ten miles only from his residence. His body was discovered, bearing the evident marks of tomahawk and scalping knife, and torn and mangled by beasts of prey. No doubt existed that he had fallen a harmless and unoffending victim to savage barbarity, and it was thought he had been killed to atone for the death of a prominent brave of the tribe, at the hands of a man by the name of Ross, who had been arrested for the deed, broke jail, and escaped out of the country. But Indian vengeance must be satisfied, and one pale face is as good as another to the red man of the forest, to wipe out his real or fancied wrongs. The date of Rev. Oliver Atwood's sad death was Sept. 20, 1838. His widow returned to her friends in Ohio, and m. third, in Sherman, Huron county, Ohio, Aug. 21, 1839, Hiram Atwood, a brother of her late husband, and a tailor by trade. "Samuel Hovey, the sixth child of Elder Samuel and Abigail C. Hovey, was born Oct. 20, 1774, and married Amy Billings, a sister of Grace, who was wife to his brother Rufus. He was a man of middling stature, had, like the other members of the family, blue eyes and brown hair, was of a social, friendly nature, and was very much respected by the community and beloved by his family. He was honored by the Legislature of the State with the appointment to the office of Justice of the Peace. It fell to his lot to care for his aged parents during many years of their age and infirmities, which duty he fulfilled to the entire satisfaction of the family. He was a kind husband, a tender parent, and a dutiful son.

"He was for many years a prominent member of the Baptist Church, which his influence and example helped to sustain.

"He was twice married, his second choice being a maiden lady, Phyletta Kendall, a sister of that Polly who was wife of his nephew, Billings. At his death he left two sons and a daughter by his first wife, and two daughters, the children of his widow.

R. H. SPRAGUE."

"DEAR COUSIN:

"I have just received your letter dated March 27th. I am the son and only surviving child of your uncle Abiel Hovey, who left Vermont in 1818 or 1819, and settled in Indiana. One letter written to me by my uncle Alvin is all that I have ever received from the family until the arrival of yours.

"My father died in 1823, leaving my mother with seven children—Fanny, Eliza, Amanda, Charlotte, Charles, Minerva and myself, then less than three years of age. My mother died in 1836, and my sisters are all dead; and all but Fanny and Amanda leaving families. My only brother Charles was killed last January, a year ago, by a cannon. He also leaves a family. Our residences are at Mount Vernon, Indiana.

"My wife died last October, leaving me two children—a daughter Essie, now finishing her education at Madam Hoffman's School in the city of New York, and my son Charlie who is at school in Evansville, Indiana.

"I am now at Charlestown, Tenn., in command of the 1st Division of the 23rd Army Corps, which will move in the morning in the direction of Dalton, where we soon expect to have a severe battle. My history is known in the West, and if you should have any curiosity in regard to it, I trust you will find that our common name has never suffered by any conduct of mine.

"I truly thank you for the information that you have so kindly furnished me in regard to our family. I trust that I shall some day be able to visit my father's family and see my relatives. I have never yet met even a cousin of my father's family. My regards to all my kindred who may feel an interest in my welfare.

Yours truly,

ALVIN P. HOVEY."

Mrs. Sprague contributes the following sketch of the family :

"Alvan Hovey, eighth child of Elder Samuel and Abigail C. Hovey, was born March 3, 1779.

"Some of his childish sayings have been preserved by tradition in the family. When a very little fellow, his father, being absent in the patriot army during the Revolutionary war, wrote to his mother ; and she, while reading the letter, shed tears over it. Little Alvan looked up, full of sympathy, saying: "What 'oar (roar) for, mammy? Daddy home." When, a few years older, he had been guilty of some childish fault, his vexed father approached him rather hastily, Alvan looked on all sides and petitioned, 'Please, sir, don't knock me over that stump!' When, older still, being at school, the teacher at different times gave leave to the scholar at the foot of the class to pronounce a word for the class to spell, and whoever could spell it was to stand at the head of the class, Alvan, being at the foot, had leave to name a word to the class. 'Spell cotton.' Commencing at the head, the word went through the class, and, according to Alvan, was missed by each in turn. The teacher says: "Alvan, you must spell it yourself." 'W-o-r-s-t-e-d; oh! it is worsted.' And Alvan marched to the head of his class without further invitation.

"He married Nancy Seabury, a lady of a very respectable family, by whom he had four daughters and one son. The son died of fever at the age of eleven years. Subsequently he lost a pair of male infants, which caused the sorrowing father to exclaim, 'A living son is too great a blessing for me.' He received into his family, at different times, several sons of other people, whom he educated and clothed, and received their labor on his farm till their majority. He was for many years a deacon in the Baptist Church and a highly respectable member of the community. He was the inventor of a horse rake, for which the Government granted him a patent.

"His wife having died, he married the widow Bean, who was a daughter of Oliver and Rachel (Cleveland) Hamblin, being his own cousin. After his death she received an annuity from his estate during the remainder of her life. His daughters were eminently beautiful and accomplished ladies, three of whom are still living. He was an uncommonly handsome man, with a sedate smile on his face and his long white hair curling over his shoulders. He, as well as his mother, brothers and sisters, were very sweet singers, as were nearly all of the Hovey name; but that agreeable accomplishment was entirely denied to the venerable elder, as well as to myself.

R. H. SPRAGUE."

Rev. Oliver D. Hibbard,⁷ of Wyandotte, Mich., writes, in answer to inquiries, the following, which is given entire:

"Your double favor, bearing date the 17th inst., has just come to hand. Contents being noted, I snatch the fugitive moments as I can to say that in October, 1833, I left my old New England home, and pushed westward, leaving mountains and valleys, rocks and rivers, and childhood's friends behind. Slowly the images photographed on the inner tablet of my soul faded, and present scenes and engrossments commanded all the view. For awhile letters came and went, but the intervals grew longer and longer. New scenes sprung up around me, and new friends knocked at my door. New songs fell on my ear—new sights—new forms of beauty looked at me on every hand, and challenged and transfixed my gaze. Once—just once—I wended my way back to the storm-beaten cliffs of my native North, to see my mother, my only brother, my three sisters—two of whom were in the house where they were born, and one two miles only distant—to see my uncles, and aunts, and cousins, and my father's and grandparents' graves. It had been fourteen years from the time of my leaving. I preached every Sabbath, and the graves preached also.

"Soon after my return to my pastorate in Western New York, my mother and my brother died of bilious typhus fever, within twenty days of each other.

"By and bye the muttering thunders began to rumble, the pulse of the nation to beat faster and faster, and anon the whole land rocked in the fearful storm. You know the dreadful story. Perhaps you went to the front. My first commission was dated May 8, 1861, Chaplain of the 64th N. Y. Regt., and on September 16th following I was ordered to report immediately for duty at Elmira, N. Y. I was with my regiment through thick and thin until about the middle of October, 1864, when I applied for a discharge and was mustered out. In December following, I came to Wyandotte, and—here I am.

“Believe that I remain as ever, yours,

O. D. HIBBARD.

“P. S.—I wish, before I close, to bear my humble testimony to the excellences of my venerated grandmother Hovey, formerly Abigail Cleveland. She was remarkable for truthfulness, patience and piety—in fact, for every domestic and Christian virtue. In all the sweet and gentle graces of perfect womanhood, she stood in her humble walks and ways as a grand exemplification. My mother, named for her, inherited many of her attributes, with a splash of her father's fire and irritability. I think my grandmother had a brother Zenas—what do you know of him? She had a sister, wife of Oliver Hamblin, of Brookfield, Vt. Have you traced that branch?
O. D. H.”

Another of Mrs. Sprague's admirable sketches is added:

“Abigail Hovey, ninth child of Elder Samuel and Abigail C. Hovey, was born Dec. 25, 1780. She was married in Brookfield, Vt., to Oliver Hibbard, whose parents were emigrants from Connecticut. She and her husband resided on a small farm in the vicinity of their respective parents, suffering the hardships and enjoying the pleasures incident to the dwellers in a new settlement. They were frequent attendants at Sabbath worship in the school house, with the long benches, and many are the times they have ridden to the meetings—about a mile—on one horse, with each a child in arms. As their family increased in numbers, the parents and children rode together in a common farm-cart, drawn by a yoke of oxen; for pleasure carriages were then unknown in the community, or were few in number. She always seemed to feel the presence of poverty very sensibly, endeavoring to compel limited means to make a respectable appearance. Although an excellent cook, she was accustomed to disparage the fare set before her friends and family. Her pious husband's answer usually was: ‘It is good enough for saints; too good for sinners.’ She was large in form—would probably weigh 180 or more; was extremely quick and sensitive in her feelings, and resembled her father in features and mental character, more than her mother. She was quick, active and diligent in household occupations—a very neat housekeeper.

“Of her ten children, seven lived to maturity, and many are the hours under the paternal roof that their voices have made sweet music together. About the year 1833, her husband died of dropsy, bequeathing to her their pleasant home and whatever property he possessed. She died of fever, at more than seventy years of age. Both her sons were excellent teachers; the oldest, Oliver Davison, afterwards became a minister of the Gospel, and settled in the West; Wm. Lewis, the younger son, devoted the last years of his life to commercial pursuits, and died at Montpelier, of a fever, leaving three children, the younger son, Oliver, being the only one now living. Two daughters, out of those ten children, are still living.

Concerning her own parents Mrs. Sprague contributes the following interesting account:

"Elizabeth Perkins Hovey, tenth child of Elder Samuel and Abigail C. Hovey, was born on Grant's Island, in Connecticut river, containing sixty acres of excellent land. A slight bluff near the centre of the island was adorned by a house and barn, to one of which a canoe was fastened during times of high water—all of the remaining land being submerged. At the time of her birth, April 15, 1783, the ice of the river being deeply covered with water, and rapidly thawing, the company invited on the occasion were carried across on men's shoulders. The family remained in this island home till her ninth year, and the little fishes were among her earliest playthings. She delighted to feed them with crumbs of bread and bits of meat, and her brothers, designing to terrify her, caught her and tossed her into the water, but instead of being terrified, she was delighted.

"From the island, the family removed to Norwich, Vt., and at the age of twelve, they again removed to Brookfield. Here she became a pupil in a little log school house, which was afterwards burned. Her health during three years was very delicate, and she was believed by her family to be in a confirmed consumption; but at the age of eighteen it greatly improved, and a journey on horseback, with a change of air and diet, confirmed it.

"At the age of nineteen she formed a contract of marriage with Gurdon Hibbard, a brother of Oliver, he being one year her senior; but constant labor as a journeyman carpenter destroyed his health, and he was pronounced by his physicians, after a year of medical treatment, to be in a hopeless consumption. But he was not hopeless. He performed a journey on horseback to Saratoga Springs, in the State of New York, in opposition to the strenuous advice of his family, they never expecting to see him come back alive. After drinking the water a few weeks, his racking cough abated, and his violent night sweats disappeared. After his recovery, he bought fifty acres of land near his father, built himself a barn, set out an orchard, and was finally married, on Dec. 25, 1809, after an engagement of seven years; her father officiating at the ceremony, and presenting her a Bible as a wedding gift. The next day she rode behind her husband on horseback to his father's, about three-fourths of a mile, in a part of whose house they made a temporary home while he should build himself a house.

"Her furniture consisted of two tables, two chests of drawers, six kitchen chairs and a rocking chair, two bedsteads, a large wheel, a linen wheel, a quill wheel, reel and swifts manufactured by her father, a looking glass, and some necessary crockery. She had devoted some years to sewing, making men's clothing, which was as lucrative as any employment for young women, at that time; she was therefore able to furnish beds with bedding, sheets and pillow cases, also very beautiful table cloths and towels of her own manufacture.

"Her wedding cloak was of scarlet broadcloth, reaching nearly to her feet, the body, armholes, cape and standing collar trimmed with silk velvet ribbon, nearly three inches wide; her bonnet, black velvet, with very little trimming; and, no doubt she was thought to make a very respectable appearance on a pillion. She had very deep blue eyes—they passed for black in the evening—dark brown hair, a very full forehead, and a fair skin. She was taller than any of her sisters, and weighed at her marriage (as did her husband), just one hundred and sixty pounds.

"She was a splendid singer, the best of the family, equal to her mother. She sang, in her girlhood, more than sixty songs, and I have heard that while singing 'The Exile of Erin,' tears would fall fast from the eyes of the company of auditors, excited by the music and the pathos of the song. Her children were indifferent singers, but her husband had a very fine cultivated voice; her grandchildren and great-grandchildren are some of them excelled only by her. There was music indeed when the husband and wife, by their own fireside, their children for auditors, sung the old fugue tunes which were then passing out of use among the people, but have sometimes returned, and been popular with musical choirs.

"By close economy they were enabled to make at different times additions to the farm, till it numbered between two and three hundred acres; to build two additional barns and a very convenient farm house. Her husband, a few years after marriage, introduced the first Spanish merinoes into the town, having bought a pair of lambs for one hundred dollars of Wm. Jarvis, late Consul from the United States to Spain. Two spinners were hired two or three months in the summer, and, some years as many as two hundred pounds of wool were manufactured into cloth, she doing the weaving; the cloth, when dressed, compared favorably with imported broadcloth, and commanded one dollar and a half to two dollars per yard. These spinners worked in the room where she and her little daughters were performing the household work for the family. While the work went on, beautiful hymns were sung, and there was much happiness under a very humble roof.

"After fourteen years of married life, their son and six daughters having been taught, began to take the places of hired laborers, and in the succeeding years mother and daughters performed music on wheels and loom, which, if not equal to the piano, yet had a very cheerful sound, and besides helped to render the family comparatively independent. The long evenings of winter were passed with a table in the centre of the room, the mother and daughters employed in knitting or sewing, at the same time listening to the vocal reading of the father, who was extremely fond of books.

"The oldest daughter married at the age of nineteen, the third went to reside in New Hampshire with a cousin, and the second was about to follow to New Hampshire as a teacher; the mother's heart began to feel bereaved. Her cry was, 'Joseph is not, Simeon is not, and ye will take Benjamin also.' But swiftly passed the fleeting years. All the children departed to other homes, excepting the third daughter, who returned to the paternal roof, and relieved the mother of her burden of labor while moving down the vale of years. Finally, at the age of eighty-one, after one day's illness, she folded her tired hands, gently closed her eyes and breathed her latest breath, and slept that sleep which seemed more like translation than death.

"Her daughters, with loving hands, robed the sacred remains for burial, and she rests in hope of a glorious immortality. Her husband survived her eight years, a most disconsolate mourner. He said to his daughter, 'There has been no day that I have not thought of her.' During all the years of their married life she had been the chief company he sought, had been consulted in all business affairs, and although a feeble woman in health, had borne her full share of the family burdens. I never knew a more conscientious person. She was worthy of all the confidence and affection she received from him and her children.

"Like all her sisters whom I have seen she resembled her father in features, but, more than any, she resembled her mother in the qualities of her mind. In all her work she was extremely nice, 'so exquisite with her needle.' Six of her children survived her; and in hope of meeting her in a world where is no death, we laid her in that cemetery where her parents and daughter, and many other relatives are laid, and where, eight years after, we laid her husband by the side of her who was the choice of his youth.

RUTH H. SPRAGUE."

The subjoined sketch of the maternal grandparents of Mrs. Ruth Hovey Sprague concludes Appendix E:

“To rescue from oblivion, even for a brief period, the memory of those we love, is a solace and a pleasure. This sentiment prompts me to pen a brief sketch of my grandmother, Abigail Cleveland, wife of R-v. Samuel Hovey. She was born in Connecticut about the year 1746, and married at the early age of seventeen, her husband being three years her senior. Their first children were born in Canterbury, Conn., from which place they removed to Lyme, N. H., and on Grant’s Island, in Connecticut river, several of the youngest of thirteen children were born, and here her aged parents found a home and that tender care which only a devoted daughter can bestow.

"In 1791, the family removed to Norwich, Vt., and one year thereafter her aged mother died.

"In 1794, they removed to Brookfield, Vt., bringing with them her aged and infirm father, for whom she filially cared till his death in 1797. Few daughters have been privileged to care for a parent as she for her father, his state of mind and body requiring almost constant attention, which was given lovingly and cheerfully. Her husband was much from home, laboring with the churches in adjoining towns, holding meetings in school houses, dwelling houses and barns, for church edifices were in that new country few and far between. Her large family, which sometimes numbered sixteen persons, with the labor of clearing away forests and cultivating a large farm, manufacturing woolen and linen cloth for the family, was directed by her and her children. They planted a very large orchard, which remains to this day, built the first cider mill, and literally made the desert blossom. Many are the times she, her neighbors, and her children, have, on Sunday mornings, dressed themselves in their clean homespun clothing, and, taking their shoes in their hands, walked barefoot for miles to some neighboring town to join in public worship under the preaching of the husband, father and neighbor. No such thing as a carriage, or scarcely a decent carriage-road, was then and there known. 'Elder Hovey' never made charges for preaching, and sometimes when a nice little present was given him, he would ride his old horse towards home till he came to a home poorer than his own, then the present was sure to be left. In process of years the original log house gave place to a 'framed' one, a better barn was built, a school house soon followed, and thrifty New England homes multiplied on every side.

"Their two oldest sons they left settled in New Hampshire, and those who came as little children married and settled around them, till all the twelve (one died in infancy) had gone from their home. Subsequently two daughters and one son removed to Ohio, and one son to Indiana; three sons—Rufus C., Samuel and Alvan—settled on farms adjoining their parents; and two daughters, Abigail and Elizabeth, married brothers, Oliver and Gurdon Hibbard, and also resided near.

"Having reared all their children in habits of industry, morality and Christian principles, their old age is quiet and peaceful, as they sit in their snug little cottage, enjoying the fruit of their labor.

"Mrs. Hovey was eminently a woman of peace, possessing 'the soft answer that turneth away wrath,' always excusing when others accused; one of those who never have an enemy.

"Samuel Hovey, Esq., their sixth child, cared for them many years of their advanced age, providing them a cottage and sending their meals prepared for the table, and finally hiring a young woman (who afterwards married his son) to supply those attentions their increasing infirmities required. She often said, 'Samuel's wife could not be kinder to me if she were my own daughter.' On one occasion, their school house having been burned, a school meeting was held in her dwelling house to agree upon a site for rebuilding. In the course of some controversy on the subject her son Abiel exclaimed, 'It makes my blood boil!' 'Ah!' said his mother, 'It is Hovey; he can't help it.'

"Elder Hovey continued to preach to extreme old age, and I have his picture distinctly before my mind's eye, standing behind a table in our school house, his white hair falling over his shoulders, his ruddy face and full blue eyes; preaching to an assembly perhaps half of whom were his children and grandchildren; his little old lady of a wife sitting near him in the only chair the room could boast of, wearing her blue print dress—the best the times afforded—wearing her black bonnet, and gently waving a large black fan; the audience seated on long benches around the room. She died at the age of about 87, and he at the age of 91. The church edifice and cemetery occupy a part of what was the farm he bought on coming to Brookfield. In that most pleasant of rural burial places they sleep side by side; here sleep four of their children, and almost a multitude of their grandchildren and other relatives.

RUTH H. SPRAGUE."

The following letter from Rev. C. P. Wing, D. D., of Carlisle, Pa., is given entire, hoping that its publication may lead to the discovery of these "lost tribes":

"CARLISLE, Sept. 12, 1877.

"H. G. CLEAVELAND:

"Sir—Yours of Aug. 30 reached my home while I was absent. I returned this week, and after consulting my notes relating to family history, I can find no one of the name of Cleaveland who has married into the Wing connection, and yet I have a vague recollection of meeting with some record of the kind among the letters in my possession. If on resuming the writing of our family history, (a work which I am expecting at some indefinite day), I should find anything on the subject, I will bear it in mind, and send you an account of it. The name of Burgess (of Maine, 1790.) occurs once or twice with respect to some distant connection. The name of Freeman often occurs in our genealogies. It was derived first from the Freeman family of Orleans on Cape Cod, who removed to Rochester, N. Y., which married into ours. My father, who was born at Conway, Hampshire county, Mass., had a half-brother named Freeman (by a third wife named Jane Trescott,) who settled early in life at La Mine, near Boonville, Cooper Co., Missouri, married there and had seven sons and five daughters, an account of whom I have. I had also a brother named Freeman Snow, (who was drowned in a well at Phelps, N. Y., at about the age of 22), whom my father named after the half-brother above named, and his grandmother of the Snow family. I had an uncle who resided awhile at Wilmington, Vermont, and afterwards at Charlemont, Franklin Co., Mass. Another uncle (James) lived at Hinsdale, Berkshire Co., Mass., who was the father of Dr. Joel Wing, an eminent physician in Albany, N. Y., who died a few years since, leaving children and grandchildren there. These are all whom I find in my notes, corresponding in any way to the "hints" you wrote me, and which offer anything on which to pursue the investigation. I have, however, a mass of letters and papers, that on reperusal may give some further hints, which I will give you when obtained. Should you be able to trace connection with any of those I have mentioned, or with the Wings of Coneaut, Ohio, of Monroe, Michigan, or of Phelps, Ontario county, New York, I should be pleased to have it communicated to me, as I am collecting all I can obtain of family history.

Yours very truly,

C. P. WING."

"P. S. My mother's name was Mary Oliver, whom my father married at Conway, Mass., and who died at a town up the Muskingum, twelve miles from Marietta, Ohio, where my father then resided, but from which he removed to Phelps, N. Y., about 1815.

C. P. W."

In the "Cushman family" Genealogy there is a statement that one William Cushman, son of William and Mary (Weaver) Cushman—b. in Castleton, Vt., March 6, 1772—m. in Cossackie, Greene county, N. Y., Betsey Cleveland. Her parentage, however, or date and place of birth, is not given. This William Cushman was a blacksmith, and died in Castleton, Vt., in 1850, without children. His wife, after the death of her husband, went to her friends in the State of Pennsylvania, but exactly where they resided is not learned. Though possible, it is not probable, that this Betsey Cleveland was the daughter of Zenas and Eunice (Ludington) Cleveland. The compiler examined the old records of Brookfield, Vt., and in reference to Zenas Cleveland,⁵ it appears that he had a son James, b. there, Oct. 30, 1784, and who died Aug. 10, 1786—also a daughter Anna (birth not recorded), who died Aug. 5, 1786; these are the “two youngest children” of Zenas, whose deaths are referred to in the letter of “Benjamin and Rachel Cleaveland” on page 10.

It also appears by the records at Brookfield, Vt., that one Zenas Cleaveland sold and conveyed to Francis Thompson, Jan. 19, 1790, 74 acres of land “for the consideration of Forty pounds L. M.” [lawful money.] And also, on the 8th of March, 1791, he sold and conveyed to Joseph Collins, physician, of Berlin, Vt., 160 acres of land “for the consideration of One hundred and fifty pounds L. M.”

As before stated, from this date all traces of Zenas⁵ and his family are lost until accidentally found by his nephew, James C. Cleaveland,⁶ about 1811, in Sullivan county, N. Y. The descendants of Zenas,⁵ so far as found, I was sorry to observe, had very little knowledge of even their near relatives, much less of their ancestors, paternal or maternal.

Mr. Thomas Acklam, a merchant in Bethel, Sullivan county, N. Y., writes as follows (Jan. 3, 1877), in reference to inquiries concerning the family of Zenas Cleaveland, who once lived in that neighborhood: “I learn from Joseph Peck, who is 79 years old, that William Peck, his father, who has been dead nearly 40 years, leased a piece of land to Zenas Cleaveland, and after remaining on it a short time, he left and went West. He recollects very well, he says, when Cleaveland left, for his father bought Cleaveland’s horse. As to the family he thinks Cleaveland had two daughters. He also says, that Zenas Cleaveland worked for his father, William Peck, one summer.”

Later, (Feb. 16, 1877), Mr. Acklam writes: “In regard to Zenas Cleaveland, I think I have given you all the information I can. Mr. Peck says that Cleaveland was a lame shoemaker, and that he had two children. Mrs. Charles DeKay, a very old lady and resident here, says she was acquainted with the family, and that Zenas Cleaveland was lame and a shoemaker, had a wife and two children—a boy and a girl—and thinks the girl’s name was Flora, the name of the boy she does not remember. She recollects of the family leaving for the West, but don’t know to what place they went. It would appear that there was no one here they ever corresponded with. This has left it so it is difficult, if not impossible, to get any trace of descendants of the family. If you can think of anything more that I can do for you, let me know and I will attend to it.”

In reference to the supposed daughter Flora, the compiler thinks it possible there were other children born to Zenas Cleaveland, by wife Eunice, than those given on page 21. But bereavements and frequent removals, loss of property and straitened circumstances, operated to scatter and gradually alienate the children of this unfortunate couple, and it is almost impossible now to gather and restore the broken links of this genealogical chain worn and rusty with the dreary waste of many years. Any additional information concerning this branch, however, will be thankfully received and acknowledged by the writer.

Thomas Burgess,¹ the pioneer ancestor of the "Burgess" families in New England, arrived in Salem, Mass., from England, with a young family about the year 1630, and lodged for a time at Lynn. A section of land was assigned him, July 3, 1637, in that part of Plymouth called Duxbury, but this section of land being forfeited by his removal to Sandwich the same year, it was assigned to Nicholas Robbins, Nov. 5, 1638, who made to the former occupant some remuneration for fences and culture.

In process of time he became a large landholder, and with advancing age he was called Goodman Burgess. He served the town in every office humble or honorable, from road-surveyor to deputy to the Court at Plymouth, for several successive years.

There is a charm in the fact that the patriarchal estate has never been alienated from the family. Benjamin—the founder of the commercial house of Benjamin Burgess & Sons, Boston—a lineal descendant of the sixth generation, held it in his possession, and in 1863 could point out the old cellar in which Thomas stored his fruits, and the bubbling fountain from which he drank for forty-eight years—dying Feb. 13, 1685, aged 82 years. His grave was honored with a monument slab, imported from England. "This was the only monument," says Amos Otis, Esq., "set up for any pilgrim of the first generation. Dorothy, his wife, also died in Sandwich, Mass., Feb. 27, 1687.

The descendants of Thomas Burgess, thousands in number, are dispersed from Maine to California. They are chiefly devoted to agricultural pursuits, many navigate the seas. Some are employed in the mechanic arts, and others are found in the medical, clerical and legal professions. As a race they hold fast their moral and religious integrity.—(Extracts from "Burgess Family Genealogy."

The children of Thomas and Dorothy Burgess were five in number, as follows:

1. Thomas,² b. about 1626; d. —.
2. John,² b. about 1628; d. —, 1701.
3. Elizabeth,² b. about 1630; d. Sept. 26, 1717.
4. Jacob,² b. about 1632; d. March 17, 1719.
5. Joseph,² b. about 1634; d. Aug. —, 1695.

Jacob Burgess,² the third son of Thomas¹ helped to repair the meeting-house in 1654, and was early a member of the church. He served the town for many years in the subordinate offices of surveyor, constable, and grand juror. He took the oath of allegiance in 1657. He inherited, in behalf of his son Thomas,³ the paternal estate in Sandwich, while the other brothers removed, Thomas,² to Newport, John,² to Yarmouth, and Joseph,² to Rochester. He was one of the executors of his father's will. He m. Mary, daughter of Benjamin Nye, June 1, 1670, who died June 23, 1706. He d. March 17, 1719.

4. Thomas,³ b. March —, 1680; d. (probably) in 1757.
5. Benjamin,³ b. (probably) in 1682; d. at Martha's Vineyard, in 1753.
6. Mary,³ b. (probably) in 1684, m. Christopher Gifford, of Conway.

Ebenezer Burgess,³ son of Jacob,² and Mary (Nye) Burgess, of Sandwich, Mass., b. Oct. 2, 1673, m. Mercy Lombard, dau. of Benjamin and Jane (Warren) Lombard, of Barnstable, who was b. Nov. 2, 1673, and d. Dec. 6, 1753, aged 80 years. He removed to that part of Plymouth afterwards called Wareham, and d. May 22, 1750, aged 77 years. [Jane Warren, the mother of Mercy Lombard, was the daughter of Nathaniel Warren, Esq., of Plymouth. Nath. Warren, Jr., Esq., in his will, in 1707, makes bequests to several of his kindred, among others to his niece, Mercy Lombard, wife of Ebenezer Burgess.]

Children:

1. Elizabeth,⁴ b. about 1698; m. — Jenkins.

The following, from a daughter of Folsom and Nancy (Hamblin) Bean, should have a place in these records:

"ENFIELD, N. H., April 20, 1878.

DEAR COUSIN :

"Many thanks for your photograph. We prize it highly, and hope to see the original as soon as you can spare the time to visit us. I will now endeavor to give you what information I can concerning my mother's parents, Oliver and Rachel (Cleveland) Hamblin.

"My grandfather Hamblin moved from Connecticut to Vermont. He, with two other men and their families, were the first settlers in the eastern part of Brookfield, on "the Branch," as it was called. Soon after, the Indians became very troublesome, and the men always worked together, as they did not consider it safe to work alone. Grandmother was very timid. She took off her gold beads and her ear ornaments and put them into a pewter porringer and buried them in the cellar for fear the Indians would tear the rings from her ears. She lived in great fear of being taken by them. Indeed, she learned subsequently they had a narrow escape on one occasion. A man by the name of Johnson being captured by the Indians was held in custody for several months, and the chief of the tribe gave Johnson charge of some braves while on a scouting expedition. They saw grandfather and the other men at work while concealed on a hill above them, and begged of Johnson permission to go and kill the men, but he managed to restrain them. Soon after, the Indians burnt Royaltan, and grandfather and the others with their families started for Lebanon, N. H., some fifty miles distant. While making the hurried journey, they saw cattle with their tongues cut out and otherwise barbarously injured; feather beds emptied and burnt to a crisp; and two men murdered, whom they buried under an old log. But the party arrived safely at last in Lebanon, and staid there two years before it was deemed safe to return. A few years after grandfather's return he sold out the place and moved to a hill farm, where he and grandmother remained till their death. They were both hard-working, industrious people, and accumulated a good property.

"My grandmother was a good-looking woman, rather stout, and was greatly beloved by all who knew her. I well remember the linen thread she used to spin; it was as white as snow, and exquisitely fine. She used to make her muslin caps with it. She made me a present of some; and I still have one pair of linen pillow slips made from the linen she spun and wove, all her own handiwork, and I shall always keep them. She was an excellent butter and cheese maker, and took care of the milk from ten cows the summer she was eighty, but after that she commenced to fail. She nearly lost her mind before her death at the age of 86. She was one of those cheerful, happy women—it was all sunshine with her. My mother resembled her very much in appearance, both having dark hair and blue eyes.

"I presume you have got your book almost completed, and I have no doubt it will be very interesting to us all. Send me a copy and tell me the price, and I will gladly send you the money for it.

Very truly, etc.,

ABIGAIL H. HUSE."

The following, from Mrs. Ruth H. Sprague, concerning the Hamblins, is subjoined. Strange to say, this conveys the first intimation to the compiler that any one of the daughters of James and Lovisa (Bigelow) Hamblin was married. Unfortunately the information comes too late to be available in this edition of the work.

"I can remember Rachel Cleveland, wife of Oliver Hamblin, as a thrifty housewife, doing the work for her son Joel (who was at that time a bachelor), with the help of 'Dotia, her deaf and dumb daughter. In visiting with my mother she talked of her success in making butter and cheese, and I have heard the neighbors say no one ever called on them without having food offered in token of true hospitality. I was never acquainted with her married daughters, they having died or removed from the State before my remembrance. Her two sons James and Joel settled in our town, were for many years prosperous farmers, professors of Christianity, and bore an honorable part in the public business of the community. Five of the eldest daughters of James were among my valued friends, having been for a considerable part of several years among my dearest pupils. They were the victims of consumption, and died early, only one of the seven having married. Some were unusually precocious and talented. Joel cared for his parents and sister 'Dotia, and on all occasions of public worship in the school-house he was sure to be there with his family, 'Dotia included. He removed from the place some years before his death, after which my acquaintance with his family ceased."

I.

Hannah Payne,⁷ eldest daughter and child of James and Mercy (Goddard) Payne, b. in Montague, Mass., May 1, 1799, m. in Eaton, Madison county, N. She d. in Richland, N. Y., Nov. 26, 1848. He m. again; res. Daysville, N. Y. Children: 1. Duane Fernando,⁹ b. in Richland, N. Y., Oct. 21, 1846; d. June 20, 1858. 2. Harriet Adell,⁹ b. in Richland, N. Y., Aug. 30, 1848, m. in Friendship, Wis., March 15, 1866, Henry William James, parentage, etc., not learned. Farmer; res. Jenny, Lincoln county, Wis. Children: 1. Frank,¹⁰ b. May 2, 1869. 2. Jerry Willis,¹⁰ b. Aug. —, 1872. 3. Walter,¹⁰ b. Feb. —, 1876.
2. Hannah,⁸ b. in Eaton, N. Y., Oct. 1, 1827; d. Feb. 18, 1829.
3. Hannah Sophia,⁸ b. in Eaton, N. Y., June 1, 1830, m. in Richland, N. Y., Dec. 1, 1852, Volney Charles Chapman, son of Zenas L. and Abigail Chapman. The date and place of his birth not given. She d. Oct. 25, 1854. No children.
4. Lovina Lucinda,⁸ b. in Richland, N. Y., March 23, 1832, m. first, in Richland, N. Y., Feb. 22, 1849, Henry L. Pettingill, parentage, etc., unknown. He was a cooper. She m. second, July 3, 1863, William A. Anderson, parentage, etc., not learned. Millwright; res. Fond du Lac, Wis. No children.
5. Walter Samuel,⁸ b. in Richland, N. Y., Sept. 28, 1836, m. in Fond du Lac, Wis., Feb. 20, 1860, Mary Prosser, dau. of Jeremiah and Gertrude Prosser. She was b. in Rochester, N. Y., April 12, 1836. He is a farmer; res. Friendship, Wis. Child: 1. Duane Franklin,⁹ b. April 7, 1867.

Brigham Payne,⁷ eldest son and second child of James and Mercy (Goddard) Payne, b. in Montague, Mass., Jan. 3, 1801, m. first, date and place not learned, Julia Ann Chapman parentage or date and place of birth not given. She d. in Kansas, about 1868, exact date unknown, and he m. second, a lady (name unknown) with whom he did not live happily. He d., it is believed, in Garnett, Anderson county, Kansas, about 1876, but whether his last wife survives him, is not ascertained. Having so far been unable to get communication with his children, the following very unsatisfactory sketch, gathered from other sources, is all the compiler can present:

1. Marvin Henry,⁸ date and place of b. unknown, m. a lady in Wisconsin, and moved to Kansas about 1858, and subsequently to California. Number and names, etc., of children, if any, not learned.
2. Julia Elizabeth,⁸ the date and place of birth unknown, m. a Mr. Pritchard, removed to Kansas, and from there to California. Names of children, if any, etc., not known.

3. Edward Wyman,⁸ date and place of birth unknown, said to be living when last heard from, in one of the Territories.
4. James Andrews,⁸ date and place of birth unknown, said to be with his brother Edward, probably in Idaho.
5. Albert Levant,⁸ date and place of birth unknown, or anything about his family, if any.
6. Savilla Antoinette,⁸ date and place of birth unknown, or if married or single.
7. Alice May,⁸ date and place of birth unknown, or if married or single. The last three are supposed by my correspondent to be still living in Garnett, Kansas, but as no attention has been paid to my letters, and the Postmaster there can give no account of them, it is probable they have all removed from the place, though it is very strange that no one should know whither.

Sophia Payne,⁷ second daughter and third child of James and Mercy (Goddard) Payne, b. in Montague, Mass., July 5, 1804, m. in Eaton, Madison county, N. Y., about 1822, Rev. Joel Wilson Nye, son of Bonham and Anna (Record) Nye. He was b. in Eaton, N. Y., date not known; d. in Iowa, about 1853. He was a Baptist minister. She d. in Mexico, Oswego county, N. Mr. Payne furnishes the following letter by request of the compiler, in reference to his ministerial labors, etc. :

"As for my ministerial record, etc., for which you ask, it is briefly as follows— (I think you have my military record):

"My literary course was pursued in Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., from which I graduated with honor, July 16, 1868. After passing a year each in the Chicago Theological Seminary, and the Auburn Theological Seminary, I graduated from Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, May 11, 1871. Licensed to preach by Presbytery of Cayuga, April 13, 1870. Ordained to the gospel ministry by Presbytery of St. Paul, at Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 5, 1871.

"After declining an invitation to the pastorate of the Sixth Presbyterian Church, of Cincinnati, Ohio, I accepted a call to the First Presbyterian Church, of Minneapolis, Minn., July 1, 1876, and was soon after installed as its Pastor. During this pastorate of nearly four years, considerable accessions were made to the church, and a new and commodious edifice erected, (at that time the best belonging to our denomination in the city), at a cost of $12,000. Resigned May 1, 1875.

"From Feb. 1, 1876, to Nov. 12, 1876, had charge of Presbyterian Church, of Onondaga Valley, N. Y. Dec. 1, 1876, became pastor of Presbyterian Church, Lima, N. Y.; resigned Feb. 10, 1879. Feb. 15, 1879, accepted call to pastorate of the Associated Presbyterian Church, of Oxford, N. Y., in which field I am now happily and successfully laboring.

"Thanks for your kind messages to mother. She has failed quite rapidly for a month past, and we hardly expect to keep her with us long.

"Perhaps it may interest you to know that my brother, Wm. H. Payne, of Sandwich, Ill., is the inventor of a very successful Automatic Grain Binder, which is proving a fortune to him.

"I congratulate you on the approaching completion of your work on the Family Record. All branches of the family will owe you thanks for your untiring labor.

"Your Cousin,

HENRY NELSON PAYNE."

J.

Capt. James Chamberlain, the maternal grandfather of Oren Cleveland,⁶ son of Rufus⁵ and Mary (Chamberlain) Cleveland, (see page 30,) was a son of Joseph Chamberlain, who was resident in Tolland, Conn., as early as 1737. The following entries appear on the old township records there :

"Colbee, y^e son of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, was born y^e 2^d day of January, A. D. 1738." [He became a colonel in the Revolutionary war.]

"Jacob, y^e son of Joseph Chamberlain, was born y^e 21st day of January, A. D. 1740-41."

"William and Rebecca, y^e son and daughter of Joseph Chamberlain, were born y^e 25th day of January, A. D. 1744-45."

These were only those of the family of children born to him after he settled in Tolland, but there were several older children who came with their parents besides James, the subject of this sketch, as the following entries show :

"Joseph Chamberlain, Jr., of Tolland, and Elizabeth Delano, of Coventry, were married, July y^e 3^d, A. D. 1744," followed by records of the birth of "Susannah, born July 16, 1745," and "Joel, born October 4, 1747." The Coventry (Conn.) records have "Abner Chamberlain, y^e son of Joseph Chamberlain and Elizabeth his wife, was born November y^e 14th, A. D. 1751." This Joseph Chamberlain, Jr., was undoubtedly the eldest brother of Capt. James Chamberlain. There were several sisters, names not learned, one of whom married a Chase, another married a Rice, another a Dimmock, another a Benton, another a Delano. One of them married for her second husband a Slosson. John Chase and Adoniram Benton, nephews of Capt. James Chamberlain, were each employed by him upon the extensive farm he owned, and James Chamberlain, Jr. (the only son of the worthy Captain), when he removed to Canaan, Vt., in after years, was accompanied by his "uncle Bill" (Chamberlain) as he was familiarly called, and his cousin, Adoniram Benton. Mr. Rice lived in Mansfield, Conn., and Mr. Dimmock, probably in Willington, Conn., but several of the Chamberlains settled at an early day in "Oblong," now Amenia, Dutchess county, N. Y., and about the year 1802, Oren Cleveland,⁶ with his brother Alexander,⁶ rode out there on horseback—a day's journey—to visit their relatives. They took dinner en route at some cousins of Rufus Cleveland,⁵ by the name of Cobb, and it may be that this was the family name of Rachel, the mother of Rufus,⁵ and wife of Benjamin Cleveland,⁴ or perhaps a sister of the said Rachel had married a Cobb. My father seems quite certain that these Cobbs were his father's cousins. Possibly they were children of Dorothy Cleveland,⁴ who may have so married. The town where this family of Cobbs resided, is not remembered by my father, but he thinks it was about half way between Winsted, Conn., and Amenia, N. Y.

The compiler has reason to believe that Capt. James Chamberlain was a descendant of Thomas Chamberlain, of Newton, Mass., who it is concluded was a son of "William Chamberlain, of Woburn, Mass., who had, at Concord: 1. Timothy, b. Aug. 13, 1649. 2. Isaac, b. Oct. 1, 1650, d. young; prob. removed to Billerica, Mass., in 1654; had there, 3. Sarah, b. Jan. 18, 1656. 4. Jacob, b. Jan. 18, 1658. 5. Thomas, b. Feb. 20, 1659. 6. Edmund, b. July 15, 1660. 7. Rebecca, b. Feb. 25, 1662. 8. Abraham, b. Jan. 6, 1664. 9. Ann, b. March 3, 1666. 10. Clement, b. May 30, 1669. 11. Daniel, b. Sept. 27, 1671; and 12. Isaac, b. Jan. 20, 1681. His wife Rebecca, mother of the last four children, perhaps of more, d. Sept. 26, 1692, in prison, on the preposterous charge of witchcraft, and he d. May 31, 1706, aged 85." [The foregoing is from Savage's Gen. Dict. of First Settlers of New England, Vol. I, CHAMBERLAIN, page 352.]

Thomas Chamberlain, of Newton, Mass., it appears, m. April 18, 1682, Elizabeth Hammond, a daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Stedman) Hammond. She was b. in Newton, Mass., Nov. 3, 1664. They had: 1. Thomas, b. Sept. 10, 1683. 2. Elizabeth, b. Aug. 1, 1686. 3. Rebecca, b. March 11, 1689. 4. Mary, b. Feb. 11, 1693. 5. Sarah, b. Oct. 18, 1695. 6. John, b. Sept. 26, 1698, and (probably) 7. Joseph, b. about 1700, and 8. William, b. about 1704. Joseph, it is conjectured, was the father of (Capt.) James, but the place of the birth of the latter, which occurred on Feb. 11, 1734, O. S., is not positively learned, though it is thought to have been Mansfield.

The full maiden name of his mother is not found, or remembered by his grandson, Oren Cleveland,⁶ but there is little or no reason to doubt her given name was Mary.

By the Coventry (Conn.) records, it appears that "James Chamberlain and the widow Abigail Palmer, the daughter of Zachariah Bointon,* was married together, January, y^e 27, A. D. 1757." By her first husband, John Palmer, she had four children, all b. in Coventry, Conn., as follows:

1. Hannah, b. May 21, 1749, m. in Coventry, Joel Chamberlain, son of Joseph and Elizabeth (Delano) Chamberlain, and dying in child bed March 18, 1769, gave her infant daughter to her mother, then Mrs. Capt. James Chamberlain, to rear, and nurse with her own child, a babe of tender years (Naomi), and so daughter and granddaughter were fed and cradled together. The babe, called Hannah for her mother, grew to womanhood, and m. Dr. Joseph Chamberlain, by whom she had a son named Oren, and they resided in New York State, probably in or near Amenia, Dutchess county.

2. John, b. June 22, 1751, m. in Tolland, Conn., Ruth Chapman, a dau. of Deacon Chapman and sister of Elijah Chapman, Sheriff of Tolland county. He was a tanner; removed to Charlotte, Vt., where he carried on the business of farming very successfully. He d. there, July 8, 1834, and his wife May 13, 1822. They had a family of six children,

* Zachary Boynton married Sarah Wicom, [Wyckham] a native of England, and had, according to the records in Coventry, seven children, namely: 1. John, b. Oct. 9, 1718. 2. Hannah, b. Dec. 30, 1720. 3. Joshua, b. Feb. 26, 1722. 4. Sarah, b. Oct. 6, 1723; d. Oct. 6, 1724. 5. Mehetabel, b. March 21, 1726. 6. Abigail, b. June 17, 1729. 7. Wicom, b. July 23, 1732.

"Zachary Boynton, of Coventry, Dyed December 30th, A. D. 1750, about 65 years of age," according to the records. Also, "John Palmer, and Abigail Boynton, his wife, was married September y^e 7th Day, A. D. 1748." John Palmer was son of Benjamin and Rebecca Palmer, and b. in Coventry, Feb. 14, 1725; d. Jan. 26, 1755.

namely : 1. Abigail, the eldest, b. about 1780, m. Edward Allen, both deceased many years since. Two sons, Harmon and Lovatus Allen, are living in Milan, Monroe county, Mich., prominent and influential citizens. Both have been members of the State Legislature. Carlos Allen, M. D., another brother, resides in New Jersey. 2. John, the next child, and eldest son, b. Sept. 5, 1783, m. Lovisa Hill, and had a family of nine children, two are living in Westfield, N. Y., one in Essex, Vt., and others in Charlotte, Vt., one of them A. C. Palmer, my correspondent. 3. Laura, b. about 1785, m. Ahira Hall, and settled in Portland, Chautauqua county, N. Y., where they died, leaving a large and highly respectable family. One son, John P. Hall, an extensive farmer, was a member of the New York Legislature, and spent the winter in Albany, about the year 1848. He d. in Fredonia, N. Y. His brother James Hall, M. D., was surgeon of a brigade during the war, and d. in Brocton, Chautauqua county, N. Y. ; another, Rev. Albina Hall, is living in North-east Pennsylvania ; another, S. P. Hall, resides in Sherman, N. Y. ; and another, Ralph Hall, in Newport, N. H. They had an equal array of sisters. 4. James, the second son, b. in Charlotte, Vt., Feb. 6, 1787, m. Charlotte Catlin, and d. in 1862-3, leaving one son, Olla C. Palmer, and five daughters. 5. Ruth, b. about 1793, m. Annanias Jones. She is now a widow, living with her son, Rev. N. W. Jones, in Perrysburgh, N. Y. 6. William, b. about 1797, went to St. Lawrence county, N. Y., when young, and married there, but subsequently removed to New Hampshire, where he died, leaving several sons and daughters. His son, Theodore Palmer, resides in Greenfield, Mass., and a daughter, Mrs. M. F. Baldwin, resides in Bridgeport, Conn. 7. Daniel C., b. about 1806, and the youngest child, m. Mahala Eggleston, and both are now living (1877) in Charlotte, Vt., with many sons and daughters married and settled near them.

3. Mehitabel, b. July 13, 1753, m. Andrew West, of Tolland, Conn., a farmer, and removed, it is believed, to Oneida county, N. Y., where they had a family of children. One daughter, Hannah West, was brought to Capt. Chamberlain's, and remained until she married John Barton, son of Col. Barton, Providence, R. I., of Revolutionary fame. Nothing further learned of their children.

4. Abigail, b. July 22, 1755, m. Oliver Edgerton, son of Hezekiah Edgerton, of Tolland, Conn. They came, however, soon after to Warehouse Point, Conn., and he engaged in trade, but his wife dying, he returned to his native place after marrying a widow with considerable property at Amenia, N. Y. His father was at one time a resident of Norwich, Conn., and deeded, Feb. 2, 1775, a farm of 82½ acres in Tolland, to his son Oliver. No children.

The descendants of Abigail (Boynton) Palmer, by second husband, Capt. James Chamberlain, claim more particular attention, and will be next in order.

As before stated, they "were married together, Jan. y^e 27, A. D. 1757," in Coventry, Conn., and their children were six in number, as follows, all b. in Coventry, or Tolland, Conn. :

1. Joseph, b. Nov. 4, 1757; d. June 12, 1759.
2. Mary, b. Aug. 7, 1759; d. Nov. 13, 1807.
3. Sally, b. Aug. 12, 1761; d. June 25, 1835.
4. Joseph (again), b. —, 1763; d. June 3, 1766.
5. James, (Maj.), b. July 24, 1766; d. Feb. 22, 1814.
6. Naomi, b. Nov. 19, 1769; d. April 26, 1867.

It is a notable circumstance that the two little Josephs were each accidentally drowned (in a large kettle used by the family) between the ages of one and a half and three years. They are buried side by side in the old cemetery in Tolland, a double headstone marking the graves with full inscriptions. As will be perceived, three daughters and one son only grew to adult age.

Mary Chamberlain, the eldest daughter and second child of Capt. James and Abigail (Boynton) [Palmer] Chamberlain, b. in Coventry, Conn., Aug. 7, 1759, m. in Ellington, Conn., Sept. 9, 1779, Rufus Cleveland,³ son of Benjamin⁴ and Rachel Cleveland. He was b. in Canterbury, Conn., June 14, 1754; d. in Barkhamstead, Litchfield county, Conn., Feb. 22, 1838. She d. in same place, Nov. 13, 1807. They had a family of fourteen children, records of whom may be found on page 31, and descendants thereafter following to page 65, to which the reader is referred.

Sally Chamberlain, the second daughter and third child of Capt. James and Abigail (Boynton) [Palmer] Chamberlain, was b. in Coventry, Conn., Aug. 12, 1761, m. in Ellington, Conn., —, 1782, Roswell Paine, son of Stephen and Deborah (Skinner) Paine. He was b. in North Bolton (now Vernon), Conn., Feb. 24, 1756; d. in Amherst, Mass., March 7, 1806. She d. in Hadley, Mass., June 25, 1835. He was a very successful farmer, and in later years the popular landlord of a hotel in Amherst, to which town he removed in 1802. Children :

1. James, b. in Vernon, Conn., June 18, 1784, a cripple from birth; d. in Amherst, Mass., March 22, 1823.
2. Sally, b. in Vernon, Conn., April 14, 1786; d. in Chardon, Geauga county, Ohio, Nov. 24, 1874.
3. Deborah, b. in Vernon, Conn., Aug. 31, 1788; d. in Kingsville, Ashtabula county, Ohio, Aug. 5, 1874.
4. Abigail, b. in Vernon, Conn., July 22, 1790; d. in Parishville, St. Lawrence county, N. Y., Feb. 17, 1871.
5. Henry, (Rev.), b. in Vernon, Conn., Aug. 17, 1793; d. in Rockland, Knox county, Me., of heart disease, March 25, 1877.
6. Roswell, b. in Vernon, Conn., Aug. 4, 1795; d. in Galesburgh, Knox county, Ill., Feb. 1, 1870.
7. Harriet, b. in Vernon, Conn., Nov. 11, 1797; d. in Pacific, Columbia county, Wis., July 7, 1861.
8. Charles, b. in Vernon, Conn., Sept. 29, 1799; d. in Amherst, Mass., Feb. 16, 1817.
9. Julianna, b. in Vernon, Conn., June —, 1801; d. in Amherst, Aug. 31, 1802.
10. Joseph Chamberlain, b. in Amherst, Mass., July 6, 1804; d. in Galva, Henry county, Ill., April 1, 1871.
11. Edward, b. in Amherst, Mass., Oct. 28, 1806; d. in Chardon, Geauga county, Ohio, April 19, 1850.

Hon. L. M. Boltwood, of Hartford, Conn., who has been several years preparing the materials for a history of Amherst, his native place, says, there is the record there of the death of Robert, son of Roswell Paine, June 8, 1807. If there was no clerical error about it, and such a son was b. to Roswell Paine by wife Sally, the birth probably occurred early in the year 1803, but the records extant in hands of descendants show but eleven children as given.

James Paine, eldest son and child of Roswell and Sally (Chamberlain) Paine, d. unmarried. My father tells me that the unremitting care and solicitude bestowed upon this unfortunate and almost helpless cripple by his mother, was touching to behold.

Sally Paine, the eldest daughter and second child of Roswell and Sally (Chamberlain) Paine, m. in Amherst, Mass., Sept. 5, 1805, Eli Hastings, son of Thomas and Hannah (Billings) Hastings. He was b. in Amherst, June 1, 1784; d. in Brecksville, Cuyahoga county, Ohio, March 20, 1835. She d. in Chardon, Geauga county, Ohio, Nov. 24, 1874. He was a farmer. Children, all b. in Amherst, Mass. :

1. Juliana, b. Oct. 31, 1806; d. Nov. 12, 1806.
2. George, b. April 12, 1808, m. in Belchertown, Mass., Sept. —, 1829, Betsey Thayer, dau. of John Thayer, date of her birth, etc., not learned, but she d. in Illinoistown, Ill., Sept. 8, 1843. He d. in Alabama, at Bladen Springs, Jan. 31, 1859. Children: 1. Ellen Maria, b. —, 1830; d. —, 1832. 2. Julia, b. —, 1832; d. July 12, 1852. 3. —, b. Feb. 22, 1834; d. March —, 1834. 4. Henry Eli, b. Feb. 12, 1836; d. March —, 1864, unm. 5. —, b. —, 1838; d. —, 1838. 6. Harriet, b. —, 1840; d. —, 1840. 7. —, b. Sept. 6, 1843; d. Sept. 10, 1843.
3. Juliana, (again), b. Nov. 21, 1809; d. May 1, 1810.
4. Nancy, b. March 10, 1811, m. first, in Brooklyn, Ohio, Oct. 20, 1831, her uncle, Edward Paine, son of Roswell and Sally (Chamberlain) Paine. He was b. in Amherst, Mass., Oct. 28, 1806; d. in Chardon, Ohio, April 19, 1850. Clerk and accountant. She m. second, in Chardon, Ohio, Nov. 3, 1850, Samuel Squire, son of Jonathan and Esther (Thusedell) Squire. He was b. in Orange county, N. Y., Oct. 16, 1799; d. in Chardon, Ohio, Nov. 8, 1854. Roswell Paine, the husband of Sally Chamberlain, was an own cousin to Edward Payne, the husband of Persis Cleveland,⁵ (see page 26.) Though spelling the name differently, both were descended from Stephen Paine of Rehoboth, Mass., a miller by occupation and the founder of this branch of the Paine family. He came from near Hingham, Norfolk county, Eng., in 1638, in the ship Diligent of Ipswich, John Martin, master, bringing his family, consisting of his wife Rose, three sons and four servants, and settled first in Hingham, Plymouth county, Mass. He was made a freeman in 1639, and elected a Representative or Deputy in 1641. Two or three years afterwards, he removed with his family to “Seekonk” which settlement it was decided, at the suggestion of Rev. Samuel Newman, (who came there from Weymouth, Mass., with the greater part of his congregation), should be called Rehoboth. Mr. Paine became prominent in the affairs of the colony, and held many offices of honor and trust, as shown by the records of the town. He was a man of wealth for those days, his estate being valued in 1643 at £535; the third highest on the list. As indicative of the confidence his townsmen had in his judgment, it may be stated that in 1659, “it is agreed upon between the Town and Lieut. Hunt and William Bucklin, that they is to shingle the new end of the meeting house, and to be done as sufficiently as the new end of Goodman Paynes house,” the inference being, of course, that what was good enough for him was good enough for the town. His two sons that grew to manhood and left families were Stephen and Nathaniel; the eldest son of the former, also named Stephen, being the grandfather of Roswell and Edward. A very complete genealogy of the families bearing the name of Payne (or Paine) in this country, may be had by application to Henry D. Paine, M. D., 26 West 30th street, New York.

Maj. James Chamberlain, the third son and fifth child of Capt. James and Abigail (Boynnton) [Palmer] Chamberlain, b. in Coventry, Conn., July 24, 1766, m. in East Windsor, Conn., June 25, 1788, Annah Watkins Babcock, dau. of Elijah and Elizabeth (Bassett) Babcock. Concerning the Babcocks, the following may be of interest to the descendants of Maj. James and Annah W. (Babcock) Chamberlain:

"CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA, Jan. 6, 1879.

"DEAR SIR: About the beginning of the eighteenth century my great grandfather, Amos Babcock, came over from England and settled in Providence, R. I., and, tradition says, two brothers, Stephen and Timothy, came with him. Timothy took an active part in the Indian wars; but Stephen was a person of literary tastes and habits, who considered "the pen mightier than the sword." My grandfather was also named Amos, and was born about 1715 to 1718; was sent to England to finish his education; returned to Providence about 1735 to 1740; married Miss Annah Watkins; settled in Ashford, Windham county, Conn., and had a family of children as follows: 1. Stephen, who m. Prudence —. 2. Elijah, who m. for his first wife Elizabeth Bassett. 3. Sally, who m. Shubal Gear. 4. William, who d. in his sixth year. 5. Amos, who m. Peggy Peabody. 6. Horace, who m. a Miss Berry. 7. Roswell; who m. a Miss Holt. 8. Miriam, who m. a Mr. Keyes. 9. Annah W., who m. a Mr. Wales.

"Elijah Babcock, the second son and child, b. in Ashford, Conn., about 1745, m. first, about 1762-3, Elizabeth Bassett, by whom he had, in Ashford, Conn.: 1. Roxana, who m. Col. Jacob Newkirk. 2. Linda, who m. Peter Campbell. 3. Hettie, who m. Col. Baldwin. 4. Annah Watkins, who m. Maj. Chamberlain. 5. William, who m. Rhoda Hull. 6. Elizabeth, who m. George Steele, 7. Ralph, who d. July 15, 1859, unmarried. 8. Prudence, who also m. George Steele, husband of her sister Elizabeth, deceased. And by second wife, Ruhama Hare: 9. Annah Watkins (again), who m. Dr. Harvey Burrirt, and d. in South Toledo, Ohio, Feb. 4, 1879, aged about 70. 10. Amos, who was b. Oct. 22, 1811, m. Caroline Lucas, and resides (1879) in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

"It is related of my grandfather, that while attending college in England, and on a wager with his fellow students, he threw one of the king's guards off his horse, mounted the animal and made his escape. On another occasion, at the queen's levee she held out her hand for the students to kiss as they passed by, but he audaciously kissed her cheek. The offense was forgiven on his assurance that the salutation was according to the mode adopted in the Colonies.

"When he returned to Providence he began to pay his addresses to Miss Annah Watkins, whose father, a proud old Englishman, claiming royal blood in his veins, promptly forbade him his house, and shut his daughter up in the second story. But grandfather, illustrating the adage that "love laughs at locksmiths," stole away with his sweetheart on horseback to Connecticut, married her, and became a prominent man in Windham county. Was a representative for twenty-six years in the Colonial Legislature, and a Selectman, Deacon and Judge. I remember well the "coat of arms" painted on the back of our "old shay"—two fighting cocks in the act of sparring.

"My father, Elijah Babcock, went to Vermont in 1775, joined Gen. Ethan Allen, and helped take Fort Ticonderoga; continued a soldier through the war; was captain of a company of men he raised in Connecticut, who marched under Gen. Arnold to Quebec; was the last man Gen. Montgomery spoke to just before the fatal bullet struck him; and was present at the surrender of Cornwallis.

"I never heard that my great grandfather had any other children than my grandfather, but suppose he probably raised a large family.

"Respectfully submitted,

"AMOS BABCOCK.

"To A. H. BABCOCK, Esq., Des Moines, Iowa."

Joseph Hilliard in early life was a saddle-tree maker in Tolland; but after coming to Warehouse Point, in East Windsor, he built, in connection with his father-in-law, Capt. Chamberlain, a vessel called a "coaster," and loaded it with merchandise for Charleston, S. C., James Chamberlain, Jr., going as the supercargo. My father states that Joseph Hilliard was a tall and well proportioned man, favoring his mother physically, who was an unusually tall woman, and that the family came to Connecticut from the region of Cape Cod, Massachusetts.

Captain James Chamberlain was a man of large stature (being six feet in his stockings, and weighing over 250 pounds avoirdupois), of fine personal appearance, and well known throughout the Colony and State of Connecticut in his day. He became dissatisfied with the Congregationalism of that period, and with Gen. Jenks, Wm. C. Warner, and others of like mind, organized a church parish for worship according to the forms of the mother Church of England, and was a devout and consistent Churchman until his death. He was noted as a peacemaker, and was often selected as an umpire or arbitrator to settle differences; and belligerent parties would end their quarrels by agreeing to leave the matter in dispute to "Cap'n Chamberlain," as he was familiarly known. Many pages might be filled with anecdotes concerning him and his bustling, kind-hearted little wife, but the compiler has not space for them in this volume. The following from the "Early History of Tolland," page 77, in reference to his civil and military services concludes Appendix J.

"James Chamberlain commanded a company of cavalry one or two tours of duty during the War of the Revolution. He came to Tolland from Coventry about the year 1772, and removed to East Windsor before the year 1782. While in this town he lived at the extreme south-east part of it on a farm lying east of the one lately owned by Jesse West. He was one of the representatives in the General Assembly, October session, 1775."

Samuel¹ Allen came from Braintree, Essex county, England. He was born about the year 1588, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. He came to Cambridge, Mass., in 1632; was brother of Col. Matthew Allyn, of Cambridge, Mass., afterwards of Windsor and Hartford, Conn., and Dea. Thomas Allyn, of Middletown, Conn. He removed to Connecticut in 1635, and settled in Windsor. He was a jurymen March 5, 1644, and was by occupation a farmer. From the Windsor, Conn., land records we have the following:

"January 27, 1640, Samuel Allen hath granted from the Plantation at Windsor, Conn. 1st. An house lot being six acres, three roods, ten poles, bounded from the rivulet [Farmington River] to the West, by Rodger Ludlow on the South; by Thomas Marshall on the North; and runs in length to the West into a highway laid out unto some part of the lot of the said Rodger Ludlow and him the said Samuel Allen. 2nd. In Plymouth meadow Four acres, bounded by Bray Rossiter on the North; and a rivulet that runs into the great [Connecticut] River on the South. 3rd. Toward Hartford Nineteen acres more or less, and runs in length to the Great River to the West one hundred and thirty and four rods, and is bounded by John Witchfield on the North, and Thomas Marshfield on the South. 4th. Over the Great River next to the same, fifteen rods in breadth, in the length to the East three miles; bounded by Joseph Lummus on the South; John Hurd on the North."

The fourth division was undoubtedly within the present limits of South Windsor. Samuel Allen was a man of public spirit, and was honored by his fellow citizens with positions of trust. He d. in Windsor, Conn., and was buried April 28, 1648, aged 60 years, leaving a widow

The following autobiography of John Allen is furnished through the kindness of Solomon Allen, Esq., of Enfield, Conn.:

"I was b. in Northampton, Mass., September 30, 1670. After awhile my father went to live at Deerfield, where he continued till the town broke up, and at Lathrop's fight my father was slain. My mother was left a widow with three small children, myself the oldest of them, and not above five years old. She was left in a low state, for she had lost the greater part of what she had. I have taken an account of the most remarkable fits of sickness that I have been visited with in all my lifetime. My mother tells me of one very sore fit of sickness of malignant fever when I was about three years old, when she did not expect my life for three weeks together. I was very bad. Another fit of the chicken pox when I was about eight years old; another form of sickness when I was about twelve or thirteen years old, with a pain in my side. I had the measles when I was about seventeen or eighteen years old; another fit of sore sickness when I was about nineteen years old. In the years when the great fever was about, I had a long and lingering sickness, twenty-two and three years old. I had the [illegible] a long sore weak time in the year 1696. I had a fit of sickness at Wethersfield when I was about twenty-six years old, and so continued weakly sometime. Mr. Mix at Wethersfield admitted me 4 o'clock into the church August 2d day, 1696, sacrament day.

JOHN ALLEN."

Those who desire to further trace the descendants of Samuel Allen,¹ are referred to Willard S. Allen, Esq., clerk of the Municipal Court in East Boston, Mass., and compiler of the "Genealogy of the Allen family" in this country, from which the foregoing is taken. He resides at 88 Lexington Street, East Boston, Mass.

Concerning the Adams branch of my ancestry on the maternal side, it may be traced with confidence to Thomas Adams* of Colchester,

* Thomas Adams was undoubtedly descended from "Henry Adams, who emigrated to this country in 1632, from Essex county, Eng., and settled in Braintree, Mass., and who was the ancestor of the patriots, Samuel and John Adams—the latter second President of the United States. Thomas Adams, son of Henry Adams, of Braintree, Mass., made freeman May 10, 1643. By wife Mary —, had Mary, b. July 24, 1643; d. soon; removed to Concord, Mass., there had Jonathan and Pelatiah (twins), b. March 6, 1646; Timothy, b. April 2, 1648; George, b. May 29, 1650; Samuel, b. —, 1652; Thomas, b. —, 1655; removed to Chelmsford, Mass., there had Rebecca, b. Sept. 18, 1657; Elizabeth, b. Oct. 21, 1659; and Mary (again), b. Oct. 29, 1664. Was town clerk, selectman, representative at second session 1673, and d. July 20, 1688, aged 76." [Savage, Gen. Dict.]

Conn., who had, according to the old records there, a family of ten children, as follows :

1. Sarah, b. Feb. 1, 1717.
2. Abigail, b. March 3, 1718.
3. Thomas, b. Aug. 30, 1719.
4. Elizabeth, b. Nov. 3, 1720.
5. Hannah, b. July 4, 1722.
6. Elijah, b. May 30, 1724.
7. Mary, } b. March 17, 1727.
8. Martha, } b. March 17, 1727.
9. Lydia, b. July 16, 1729.
10. Elisha, b. Sept. 28, 1732.

Thomas Adams, the eldest son, b. Aug. 30, 1719, was, I conjecture from the perpetuation of family given names (as will appear), the father of Mary Adams, wife of Moses Allen. The romantic circumstances of his marriage in 1744, to Mrs. Mary (Hammond) Vallett, of Montville, Conn., must be briefly narrated. About the year 1736, Jeremiah Vallett, a worthy sea captain, courted and married Miss Mary Hammond.* She bore him a son who was named Jeremiah, for his father. One day, some three years after his marriage, Capt. Vallett, leaving his snug little home well stored with the necessaries of life, bade his wife an affectionate farewell, kissed little "Jerry," his only son and heir, and joined his vessel for a short cruise. The time came around for his promised return, but no tidings of the ship or its captain. Weeks and months passed by, and the disconsolate wife anxiously watched and waited for some message from the absent husband and father. At length the report came that the ship had been lost at sea with all on board, and the "widow Vallett" put on mourning for the prescribed period. At the expiration of the time, but with no unseemly haste, she accepted the hand of Thomas Adams, a young and active ship carpenter at that time, and her junior by a few years only. Her former husband's estate being administered upon, as any dead man's should be, the newly married couple settled down to domestic happiness in the comfortable home of "the late" Capt. Vallett.

Everything was going on swimmingly enough when, to the consternation of all, Capt. Vallett himself appeared at the door of his former domicile, and the consequent surprise and astonishment may be imagined better than described. But under the laws of the colony no wrong had been done or intended, and a consultation was held without delay, with the good minister of the place who had tied the second knot, and a magistrate of the law as the legal counselor, to effect an amicable arrangement among the parties so deeply interested. It was agreed that the wife should herself say which husband she preferred, and she unhesitatingly

* Mary Hammond was, without doubt, a descendant of "Thomas Hammond, of Hingham, Mass., 1636, who came from Lavenham, Suffolk county, Eng. He was made a freeman March 9, 1637. By wife Elizabeth, m. (probably in England), Nov. 12, 1623, who d. before him, brought children Elizabeth and Thomas; had Sarah, baptized Sept. 13, 1640, and Nathaniel, March 12, 1643; removed to Watertown, Mass., thence across the river in 1650 to Cambridge village, purchased a large farm with Vincent Druce, and d. Sept. 30, 1675, aged 88 years. His will names all these children: Elizabeth, (who m. Aug. 17, 1659, George Woodward,) Thomas and Nathaniel, all then married, and Sarah, probably wife of Nathaniel Stedman, as deceased, but her children, Sarah and Elizabeth to be heirs. He had a very good estate." [Savage, Gen. Dict.] chose the second one, undoubtedly, from her past experience, being more in favor of a land lubber on shore, than the best sailor man in the world afloat.

So the Captain graciously accepted the situation, with the stipulation, however, that young Adams and his wife should depart from that neighborhood a considerable distance, little "Jerry," of course, to remain with his father.

Thomas Adams and his wife removed to East Windsor, and settled at Warehouse Point, on the Connecticut river, following his occupation of ship carpenter. Subsequently he kept the public house there, and died about November, 1767, in his 49th year. She married third, Gen. Wolcott, and went to reside in Springfield, Mass.; but not living happily with her third husband, they mutually consented to a separation, and she afterwards resided with one of her daughters till she died. She was a woman above the medium height, and was very fleshy in the later years of her life. The children and grandchildren were accustomed to go occasionally and visit "Cousin Jerry" Vallett, and were always cordially received and entertained with the utmost hospitality. But this intercourse, I understood from my informant, was after the worthy Captain's death.

Children of Thomas and Mary (Hammond) [Vallett] Adams, as far as known, were eight in number, as follows, all b. in East Windsor, Conn.:

1. Mary, b. Sept. 21, 1745.

Thomas Adams, third son and fifth child of Thomas and Mary (Hammond) [Vallett] Adams, b. in East Windsor, Conn., Jan. —, 1752.

F. N. Allen, Esq., of Hartford, Conn., writes, July 27, 1878, and gives copy of an entry found on the Probate Records of Hartford county, as follows :

"2 Day of February, 1768. It was certified to this Court by Ephraim Terry, a justice of the peace, that Thomas Adams, a minor, aged sixteen years, son of Thomas Adams, late of Windsor, deceased, appeared before him on the 1st day of December last, and made choice of Moses Allyn, of Enfield, to be his guardian; which choice the Court accepts. And the said Moses appeared before the Court, and acknowledged himself bound to the Judge of this Court or his successor in a recog. of £100 money, that he will faithfully discharge the trust of guardian to said minor, during his minority, according to law."

Mr. Allen further writes :

"This is all that I could find on the records. The Judge says that probably there was no will, and that the property of Thomas Adams was all personal and no inventory was made. We examined the books, thinking there might appear a copy of a will, or names of legally appointed administrators; but this is all we could find. It may be concluded, I think, that Thomas Adams, Sr., died about the latter part of November, 1767, and that this was his only minor child."

Another correspondent on the subject, has an impression of hearing it said that he enlisted in the army when the Revolutionary war commenced, was severely wounded, remained in a hospital until convalescent, and came home an emaciated cripple. He probably did not survive many years, and it is believed died unmarried.

KNAPP — BARNUM.

(SEE PAGE 50.)

The Knapps in this country, or at least in the New England States, are undoubtedly largely descended from Nicholas Knap, who came from Sussex, Eng., about A. D. 1630, and settled in Watertown, Mass. By first wife, Elinor, he had : 1. Jonathan, (who was buried Dec. 27, 1631); 2. Timothy, b. Dec. 14, 1632 ; 3. Joshua, b. Jan. 5, 1635 ; 4. Caleb, b. Jan. 20, 1637 ; 5. Sarah, b. Jan. 5, 1639 ; 6. Ruth, b. Jan. 6, 1641 ; 7. Hannah, b. March 6, 1643. Removed to Stamford, Conn., and there had : 8. Moses, b. —, 1645 ; 9. Lydia, b. —, 1647. His wife Elinor d. Aug. 16, 1658, and he m. second, March 9, 1659, Mrs. Unity, widow of Peter Brown, and who had been widow of Clement Buxton. He d. April, 1670. His will of April 15, 1670, names four sons, Caleb, Joshua, Moses, Timothy ; and four daughters, Sarah, Hannah, Lydia, Ruth.

Timothy, second son of Nicholas Knap, was representative for Rye in 1670, and was living in Greenwich, 1697.

Joshua, third son of Nicholas Knap, was of Greenwich, 1670; m. in Stamford, June 9, 1657, Hannah Close; d. Oct. 27, 1684, leaving a good estate by inventory of 1685; and children: Hannah, aged 25; Joshua, 22; Joseph, 20; Ruth, 18; Timothy, 16; Benjamin, 10; Caleb, 7; Jonathan, 5. His widow m. John Bowers.

Caleb, fourth son of Nicholas Knap, was of Stamford, 1670, made his will Dec. 11, 1674, and names wife Hannah, and children, Caleb, John, Moses, Samuel, Sarah and Hannah.

Sarah, eldest daughter of Nicholas Knap, m. Sept. 6, 1667, Peter Disbrough; and Ruth, the second daughter, m. Nov. 20, 1667, Joseph Ferris.

Moses, the youngest son of Nicholas Knap, was of Greenwich, 1670, but perhaps only a landholder, and never lived there but at Stamford, as early as 1667, and there his father gave him land by his will; m. about 1669, Abigail, daughter of Richard Wescoat. Whether he had children is not learned, but he was living certainly at Stamford up to 1701, perhaps later. The name is now generally spelled with two p's.

The compiler has no good reason to doubt that John Knap, second son of Caleb and Hannah Knap, and grandson of Nicholas and Elinor Knap, was the grandfather (or great grandfather) of John Knapp, of Danbury, Conn., who m. Ruth Gregory, and had:

1. Samuel, b. about 1760, m. Mary Lindsley.
2. Elizabeth, b. about 1763, m. Ezra Nichols.
3. Jehu, b. Nov. 17, 1767, m. Lois Wood.

The family of Knapps is traced back for twenty or more generations, and derive from Roger de Knap, who figured in English history, sometime in the 12th century; and descendants in almost every town and village in the United States are of a direct line, and entitled to the family coat of arms.

The ancestry of Capt. Azor Barnum, the maternal grandfather of Anna M. Knapp (see page 50), may be traced to Thomas Barnum, of Norwalk, Conn., 1662, and before that at Fairfield, and after at Danbury. He had: Thomas, b. July 9, 1663; John, b. Feb. 24, 1678; Hannah, b. Oct. 14, 1680; and Ebenezer, b. May 19, 1682; but six more children he had, two sons and four daughters, yet at Norwalk are no more recorded, nor can I find (says Savage) the names of these six or either of them, or either of two wives, one of whom outlived him, who d. 1695.

From surviving descendants of Capt. Azor Barnum, however, it is ascertained that he was a son of Joshua Barnum, and a grandson of Thomas Barnum, Jr., though no further particulars of names and dates have been gathered.

The children of Capt. Azor Barnum, by wife Anna Sweet, were at least seven in number, all b. in South East, Putnam county, N. Y., as follows:

1. Azor, b. about 1772, m. first, —, who d. soon, and he m. second, Sally Bradley, by whom he had two daughters, Sally and Julia. It is not known if any descendants are living.
2. Rebecca, b. about 1774, who m. a Mr. Lewis, and lived in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and had George, Azor, Ann Maria, Sally, and Julia.
3. Elizabeth, b. July 6, 1776, m. first, Henry Thomas, b. June 8, 1773. Children: 1. Orange B., b. May 24, 1797. 2. Norris A., b. Dec. 26, 1798; d. March 25, 1825. 3. Sally B., b. June 18, 1802, who m. David Mansfield, and had George, Mary, Hannah, David, and Levi.

The descendants of the senior Thomas Barnum are scattered in all directions over the New England and other States, though the orthography of the name is sometimes changed to Barnham. The distinguished iron master, Hon. William H. Barnum, late United States Senator from Connecticut, as well as the "great American showman," Phineas Taylor Barnum, of Bridgeport, Conn., are both descendants of the aforesaid common ancestor, Thomas Barnum, of Fairfield, Conn.

"Bethabra Cleaveland, died at Ware, Mass., April 17, 1835, aged 71 years."

"Margery, wife of Bethabra Cleaveland, died in Ware, Mass., May 11, 1847, aged 77."

"Dolly Cleaveland, died March 3d, 1862, aged 76 years."

"In memory of Nancy Cleaveland, who died April 15th, 1863, aged 67."

The last two seem to be the latest interments in the old cemetery of Canterbury, and the foregoing are all the inscriptions where the name of Cleaveland appears.

FROM THE TOWNSHIP RECORDS OF BROOKLYN, CONN.

 Ambrose Cleveland and Lavinia Hathaway, Aug. 8, 1803.

H. A. FRANCIS, Township Clerk.

Many other New England towns have records, more or less perfect, of persons bearing the family name.

The following copy of a letter to the Compiler from Ex-Gov. Chauncey Fitch Cleveland, of Hampton, Windham county, Conn., deserves the space it fills (if for no other reason) for the noble sentiments therein expressed in reference to honoring the name we bear :

“HAMPTON, CONN., Dec. 23, 1876.

“H. G. CLEVELAND, ESQ.:

“My Dear Sir—Your very interesting letter of Dec. 8th, is received, and by it I have learned more of the origin of the Clevelands than I knew before. You ask who my grandfather married, and the names of their children. He married a Hyde, of Canterbury. She belonged to a family distinguished for their love of money. Her Christian name I have forgotten. They had a family of five sons and four daughters: Solomon, Silas, Daniel, Isaac and Palmer; Irene, Clarissa, Elizabeth and Polly. Solomon married Hannah Sharp, of Pomfret. They had six children, all very talented: Palmer, Charles, Solomon; Hannah, Betsey and Lois. Of the sons, two were lawyers and one was a manufacturer. Of the three daughters, one was the grandmother of the authoress, Ellen Louise (Chandler) Moulton. These children are all dead, but all have descendants living, excepting Solomon, who never married. The names of these cousin's children I can not give you.

"Silas, Jr., my father, married Lois Sharp, of Pomfret, sister of Uncle Solomon's wife. They had three sons: Mason, John and Chauncey F., all born in Hampton.

"Mason married Eliza Perkins, and they have four sons. Mason died twenty years ago. The sons are: Perkins, unmarried, is clerk in the Comptroller's Office, New York; Edward S., a gentleman of leisure, married Caroline Bolles, of Hartford, Conn., has two sons living, and has buried one; Henry M., married Mary Welch, of Brooklyn, Conn., they have four children, two sons and two daughters; George Lee, unmarried, is in a banking house in Hartford. These my nephews are talented and prosperous.

"My brother John studied medicine, but died at the age of twenty-eight, unmarried.

"I married for my first wife, Diantha Hovey, of this town, and we raised two children: John J. and Delia D. My son graduated at Trinity College, Hartford, and my daughter also graduated in Hartford. John was a lawyer and clerk of the Federal Courts of this State; never married; died at the age of twenty-eight. My daughter married Alfred A. Burnham, of Windham, a lawyer; has been Speaker of House of Representatives, Lieut. Gov., and four years Member of Congress. Delia died at the age of twenty-eight. My children were very talented, and died universally loved and respected. My wife, Diantha, died Oct. 29, 1867, and I married her niece, Helen Litchfield, with whom I am now living.

"My Uncle Daniel died a bachelor. Palmer died early. Isaac married Abigail Brown, of Brooklyn. They had three children: two girls and one son. Nancy died early. Olive married Lester Burnett, and lives in San Francisco. They have two children. Harvey died three or four years ago and left one son, who is married and lives in Massachusetts. Polly never married. Irene, Elizabeth and Clarissa married, and their descendants are scattered about the world.

"Your questions regarding the Senior Edward I can not answer. Had I thought of it when young, my grandfather could have given me a history of the Cleveland family, from first to last. My ancestors, as far as I knew them, were talented, honorable men. But to be perfectly frank with you, my kinsman, I have been much more anxious to honor the name of Cleveland, than to be honored by it.

"I was pleased with the picture of your father, a fine looking old gentleman. I enclose my own to him, taken when I was seventy-five, most three years ago. The Clevelands are a long-lived race.

"With feelings of kinship I subscribe myself,

Your friend and servant,

C. F. CLEVELAND."

So many and urgent have been the inquiries of correspondents, during the compilation of this Genealogy, concerning the personal history of the Compiler, that he has concluded to insert the following biographical account, taken from Cleave's "Biographical Cyclopaedia and Portrait Gallery of Distinguished Men of Ohio" (Cuyahoga County, page 94), the author of which, it appears, had the presumption to embrace him in that category. Making due allowances for the very flattering character of the sketch, it will no doubt fully answer the purpose of its insertion:

"CLEVELAND, HORACE GILLETTE, merchant, was born January 3d, 1832, at Winchester, Litchfield county, Connecticut, and was the youngest son of eleven children; living, April, 1875, at Cleveland, Ohio. His father, Oren Cleveland, being a man of good education and fine literary taste, devoted many years of his life to teaching, at the same time cultivating a farm. Moses Cleveland, from whom this branch of the Cleveland family descended, came over from Ipswich, England, about 1640, and settled in Woburn, Massachusetts; his son Samuel settled in Connecticut, in 1693. Oren Cleveland, the father of Horace, removed his family to Ohio in 1839, and settled in Geauga county. Horace lived at home, assisting in carrying on the farm, and attending the district school winters, until he was nineteen, when he entered the store of Kile, Wilkins & Co., at Huntsburgh, where he remained as general clerk for about a year. In 1852 he went to Cleveland and entered a mercantile college for the purpose of perfecting himself in book-keeping, and at the end of a few weeks he had so thoroughly mastered the science that he was offered the position of tutor in the college, but declined, wishing to connect himself more actively with the business of the city. Immediately on leaving the college he engaged as book-keeper, with Mr. A. M. Beebe, at that time doing a large and profitable business on Bank street. He remained with Mr. Beebe about a year, and then was employed in the Forest City Bank, organized under the free banking law of Ohio. At the end of about a year, he was prostrated by a severe and lingering illness, which necessitated his resignation, much to the regret of the officers of the institution, for his clerical abilities were of a high order, and joined to a uniformly courteous deportment, made him a general favorite. After his restoration to health he was employed for a short time by the Bank of Geauga, at Painesville, where his skill as an accountant was called into requisition in examining, writing up and balancing books and accounts that had been neglected for many years. This service done he returned to Cleveland, and in the spring of 1855, entered the well known wholesale store of George Worthington, then on the corner of Water and Superior streets, the present site of the Second National Bank building. He was the book-keeper and chief clerk of this enterprising and very successful business house for nearly ten years. These were years of close application, and taxed to the uttermost a constitution not naturally strong; yet the experience was of great advantage, for by it he was being educated for the more responsible duties the years were to bring to him. In the fall of 1864, he formed a copartnership with Joseph H. Brown, Richard Brown, Thomas Brown, and William Bonnell, of Youngstown, Ohio, under the name of Cleveland, Brown & Co., and opened a large hardware store, at Nos. 25 to 31 Merwin street, making heavy hardware a specialty. They imported largely of Swedish iron, English steel, etc. Their business operations reached an average of two millions per annum; their trade extended throughout Northern Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and the upper lakes, and in some lines of goods as far east as Boston. The reputation of the house for enterprise and honorable dealing was thoroughly established. There have been several changes of partners during the eleven years of its existence, and in 1875 the firm had seven partners, viz.: H. G. Cleveland, Joseph H. Brown, Richard Brown, J. O. Brown, William Bonnell, P. M. Hitchcock, and A. M. Wilcox. In 1870, he was elected president of the Painesville and Youngstown Railroad, a narrow gauge road running from Fairport, on the lake, to Youngstown, built for the special purpose of transporting iron ore from the lake to the extensive iron works at Youngtown, and coal from that region to the lake, and is under the control of parties engaged in these interests. After about a year he resigned, on account of the increasing demands of his regular business. Exemplary in all transactions whether of a public or private character; an active, earnest man, with a keen insight into the multiplied details of such a life, and rare judgment to meet them, he is the recognized head of one of Cleveland's most enterprising and substantial commercial houses. In politics he is a conservative Republican, thoroughly patriotic, and heartily supported the war, giving liberally to all those charitable enterprises that grew out of the struggle. He was two years in the city council, and rendered valuable services on the finance committee. He is a communicant in the Episcopal Church, uniting with the (Grace) Church about ten years ago, and engages actively in its Christian work, cheerfully giving his time and money to its advancement; indeed, all worthy charitable objects find in him a friend. He is warden of Grace Church, and one of the standing committee of the diocese. He was married to Miss Anna Maria Knapp, of Danbury, Connecticut, in 1853. They have three children, two sons and one daughter."

A BURLESQUE ON THE PRIDE OF FAMILY BLOOD,

WRITTEN BY

REV. AARON CLEVELAND,

After hearing a conversation on the subject.

Four kinds of blood flow in my veins,
And govern each, in turn, my brains:
From CLEVELAND, PORTER, SEWALL, WATERS,
I had my blood distinct in quarters.
My parents' parents' names I know,
But I no farther back can go.
Compound on compound from the flood.
Forms now my own ancestral blood,
But what my sires of old time were,
I neither wish to know nor care.
Some might be wise, and others fools:
Some might be tyrants, others tools;
Some might be rich, and others lack;
Some might be white, and others black:
No matter what in days of yore,
Since they are known and sung no more.
The name of CLEVELAND I must wear,
Which some poor foundling first might bear.
PORTER, I 'm told, from Scotland came,
A bonny bard of ancient fame;
SEWALL, an English derivation,
Perhaps some outcast from the nation;
WATERS, an Irishman, I ween,
Straight roundabout from Aberdeen—
Such is my heterogeneous "blood,"
A motley mixture, bad and good;
Each blood aspires to rule alone,
And each in turn ascends the throne,
And rules till others tear him down.
Each change must twist about my brains,
And move my tongue in different strains:
My mental powers are captive led,
And whim or wisdom rules the head.
My character, no one can know,
For none I have while things are so,
I 'm something, nothing, wise or fool,
As suits the blood which haps to rule.

When CLEVELAND reigns, I 'm thought a wit,
In making words the funny hit;
In social glee and humorous song,
I charm the fools that round me throng;
But soon, perhaps, this blood is down,
When PORTER next may wear the crown.
Now all is calm, discreet, and wise,
Whate'er I do, whate'er advise,

What common sense and wisdom teach,
Direct my actions—form my speech;
The wise and good now with me stay,
While laughing fools keep far away;
But soon, alas!—this happy reign
Must, for some other, change again.
SEWALL, perhaps, may next bear rule,
I 'm then a philosophic fool!
With Jefferson I correspond,
And soar with him the stars beyond,
While every fibre of the brain
To sense profound I nicely strain,
And then arise beyond the ken
Of common sense and common men.
Wise fools may soar themselves above,
And dream in rapturous spheres they move,
But airy castles must recoil,
And all their imagery despoil.
Thus great was I till SEWALL's crown
About my head came tumbling down.
But who comes next? alas! 't is WATERS
Rushing fearless to head-quarters.
He knows no manners, nor decorum,
But elbows headlong to the forum,
Uncouth and odd, abrupt and bold,
Untaught, unteachable, uncontrolled,
Devoid of wisdom, sense or wit,
Not one thing right he ever hit,
Unless by accident—not skill,
He blundered right, against his will—
Such am I now, no transmigration
Can sink me to a lower station.
Come, PORTER, come, depose this clown,
And once for all assume the crown.
If aught in SEWALL's blood you find
Will make your own still more refined,
If found in CLEVELAND's blood a trait
To aid you in the affairs of state,
Select such parts, but spurn the rest,
Never to rule my brains or breast;
Of WATERS' blood expel the whole,
Let not one drop pollute my soul.
Then rule my head, then rule my heart,
From folly, weakness, wit apart;
With all such qualities I 'll dispense,
And only give me common sense.

This brings to a conclusion the genealogical labors of the Compiler as relating to this volume. In glancing over the proof sheets some errors have been discovered, which are here briefly noted and corrected, with some additional matter received too late for insertion in the proper place, as follows :

- Page 5. According to the Woburn (Mass.) records, if correctly transcribed, the first Joanna, daughter of Moses and Ann (Winn) Cleveland, d. March 12, 1667, instead of "July 2, 1667;" and Isaac, the ninth child, was b. Aug. 11, 1669, instead of "May 11, 1669," (see page 237).
- Page 10. Letter from "Benjamin and Rachel Cleaveland" should conclude, "This from your loving Parents," the word "this" having been inadvertently omitted in copying.
- Page 11. "Lucy," twelfth child of Abigail Cleveland, by husband Samuel Hovey, d. July 27, 1788.
- Page 15. "Laura," eleventh child of Rufus Cleveland Hovey, d. Jan. 12, 1868. Also "James," sixth child of Rebecca Hovey, by husband James Sanderson, did not die as reported "March —, 1841," but is still living in Pilot Grove, Newton county, Ind.
- Page 17. "Frances," second child, etc., d. Sept. —, 1836, instead of "Sept. —, 1830." Also "Charlotte," fifth child, d. Jan. —, 1858, instead of "Jan. —, 1856."
